75 Per Cent Of Canada's Meat Cut Off By Strike

Manitoba Rules Union Violates Provincial Act

By Canadian Press

A worsening meat situation confronted Canadians today with 75 per cent of their normal supply cut off by a strike that one provincial government Tuesday night called "illegal."

Effects of the strike of approximately 12,000 United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O), which has halted operations at 21 packing plants in 16 cities are not expected to be apparent in most centres before Wednesday. By the week-end, it is predicted, the real pinch will come.

Tuesday night Labor Minister C. Rhodes Smith of Manitoba told the 2,600 of these workers in his province that their strike was contrary to the Manitoba Wartime Labor Regulations Act and thus illegal. The act forbids walkouts until 14 days have elapsed after both parties to a labor dispute have tried to settle their differences in conciliation hearings.

On strike are the employees of the "Big Three" of Canada's meat packers—Swift Canadian Company, Canada Packers Ltd. and Burns and Company. About 2,000 workers at small independent companies remained at work.

LETTER TO MINISTER

Another provincial angle crept into the workers' demands for wage increases when it was learned that a letter urging Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley not to intervene in negotiations being carried on in Toronto has been sent out to employees at the Swift Canadian plant there.

Dated Sept. 10, it was sent from manager A. E. Miller's office and also requested Mr. Daley not to waive any provincial jurisdiction in the dispute.

Mr. Miller said some progress had been made in negotiations with the union since the strike started two weeks ago and expressed the belief these negotiations would break down if a third party were introduced.

Union officials on a country-wide basis sought a basic wage of 92 cents an hour, which would entail an average increase of 17 cents. Swift has offered 3 cents, Canada Packers and Burns 5 cents.

TO TAKE VOTE

At Vancouver, a union spokesman said a secret ballot would be conducted among more than 600 union strikers there to decide whether they would accept a federal government proposal to resume work while conciliation was taking place.

British Columbia is one of the three provinces which have agreed to waive jurisdiction and permit intervention and conciliation by the federal government. The others are Saskatchewan and Manitoba, with the latter accepting provided certain conditions "which we deem necessary for success are approved."

A note of alarm over "the serious position of the livestock producers and the consumers of livestock products" was sounded Monday at Calgary as urgent messages asking for settlement of the strike went out to Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta and the Canadian Congress of Labor from the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

Alarm Sirens In Holy Land As Blasts Heard

JERUSALEM (AP)—Alarm sirens blared today for the third time since the beginning of the Jewish New Year festival of Rosh Hashonah.

Unofficial sources said the alerts resulted from a new series of explosions in a "war of nerves" being carried on by the Jewish underground.

The informants said a new explosion was heard near the Jewish Agency and a second at the northwestern outskirts of Jerusalem. Eight explosions blasted the peace of the holiday in the city during the night. Police were unable to trace the source of the disturbances.

Meanwhile, the Arab Higher Executive canceled a scheduled one-hour strike of Palestine Arabs in sympathy with the Egyptian case against Britain in the United Nations. The executive said that, instead, a general strike would be called in all Arab countries to coincide with the presentation of the Palestine Arab case to the U.N. against partitioning of the Holy Land.

Sinnott Appointed Deputy Magistrate

PATRICK J. SINNOTT

The provincial government today appointed Patrick J. Sinnott, Victoria barrister, as deputy police magistrate for Victoria.

Mr. Sinnott will serve during the absence of Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Appointment of a deputy police magistrate had been requested by the City Council. Mr. Sinnott will be paid for the time he serves on the bench.

600 Tons Of War Chemicals Sunk Off Island Coast

The R.C.N. tug Heatherton sailed from Esquimalt at 8 Monday night with a barge carrying approximately one-third of the 600 tons of mustard gas and other chemical warfare ammunition which is being disposed of here by the Canadian Army in the first chemical warfare ammunition disposal project since that off the coast of Nova Scotia in February, 1946.

A special train, complete with military guard, was provided to transport the supplies from a location in central Canada to Esquimalt, which is serving as a base for the dumping operations.

The material, loaded aboard a 300-ton dump scow, is being towed 87 miles to sea off Clayoquot Sound for dumping.

As the ammunition is all loaded in shells and other types of metal containers, it will sink easily in deep water, with no danger of becoming a hazard to fishermen's nets. In time, the containers will rust through, releasing the lethal liquids gradually and harmlessly.

Throughout the operation, general administration and handling is the army's responsibility, while the navy is taking care of navigation and other marine aspects.

Two other trips will be made by Heatherton with the remainder of the war chemicals. She will sail again at 8 Thursday evening and for the last time at 8 Monday evening.

No Price Increases Yet On Commodities In Victoria

Despite the removal of price controls on a wide variety of commodities, prices remained unchanged in Victoria today, but predictions were there would be an increase in the price of bread and certain lines of lumber.

Lumber dealers described a report from Vancouver that the price of top grade lumber would reach $14 a thousand feet before the end of September as greatly exaggerated. The general opinion was that there would be price increases on only certain lines of lumber but for the moment prices would remain the same.

An executive of a lumber company said there would be no increase in lumber prices pending a revision of the price list and any changes, if any, would take place towards the end of the week or next week.

"I don't think there will be any great change in the price of low grade lumber," he said. "There might be an increase for larger lengths, but on the whole prices will remain the same."

BAKERS DISCUSS PRICES

Meanwhile, it became a certainty that the price of bread would rise in the near future as members of the Master Bakers' Association in Victoria began to discuss the possibility of raising bread by two or three cents.

A decision in this respect is expected any day, and predictions were at noon today that the price of bread will go up before the week is over.

One baker denied a Vancouver report that the major percentage of the bread output would be "curtailed within a week" if the meat packers' strike continued in eastern Canada. The packing houses, it was claimed, were the source of all essential shortening used in the baking of bread.

Price of domestic nails remained unchanged but those imported from across the line rose from 12 cents to between 14 and 25 cents a pound.

Some business men were doubtful about an increase in the price of nails—as steel prices still remained unchanged. Predictions were, however, that steel may go up within a few months.

HITS BLACK MARKET

While many business executives expressed satisfaction that the easing of controls would greatly improve supply and knock the bottom out of the black market, many were hesitant about predicting where prices would end.

They pointed out that the prices would depend on the individual manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

Some dealers were of the opinion that there would be an increase in price on women's shoes and clothing. Others, however, forecast that the price would remain the same.

Moslem Governor Demands India Aid New Delhi Refugees

KARACHI (Reuter) — Criticizing treatment of Moslem refugees in New Delhi, Mohammed Ali Jinnah, Governor-General of the Moslem Dominion of Pakistan, today called on the Dominion of India to deal with lawbreakers "with an iron hand."

He alleged thousands of Moslems in Delhi were worse off than prisoners and said he hoped the authorities would take immediate steps to ensure their safety and welfare.

"They are without shelter, food or clothes and go in fear of their lives," he said.

Jinnah has been discussing their position with Gen. Lord Ismay, chief of liaison between himself and the Governor-General of India, Viscount Mountbatten.

Five persons were killed and 20 wounded as a result of a bomb explosion in Simla, it was officially announced in New Delhi today.

During the last 24 hours troops opened fire on a mob attacking Chandi, a village about 25 miles northwest of Delhi, killing 10 and wounding 50.

Casualties in Peshawar since trouble began there about a week ago were estimated at fewer than 250.

An official statement there said there had been no appreciable increase in disturbances in the Punjab, where hundreds of thousands of Moslem and Indian refugees have been on the move for the last few weeks.

U.S. Troops Fire Shots At Trieste To Warn Slavs

TRIESTE (AP)—Allied Military Government headquarters said today U.S. troops manning an outpost on the provisional frontier between Yugoslavia and the new free territory of Trieste brought up a tank and fired a warning burst of machine-gun fire to discourage a Yugoslav attempt to cross the line this morning.

"It was touch and go at that outpost for a while," commented a high A.M.G. officer. He credited the "highly disciplined" U.S. troops with having conducted themselves in such a manner as to permit the incident to end without serious consequences.

Both the U.S. and Yugoslav officers at the post said they would consult with higher authorities. The Yugoslavs dropped back a few feet from the line.

STARTED TOO SOON

Yugoslavs had "jumped the gun" soon after midnight on the British-U.S.-Yugoslav timetable for her to occupy treaty-gained lands. The treaty went into effect at 2 a.m.

Rioting between Italians and Slavs heralded the birth of the free territory of Trieste, embracing this Adriatic port and its environs.

Italy is losing some 3,000 square miles of territory, which she had held since a few years after the First World War, by terms of the treaty with the victory of the Second World War ratified formally in Paris Monday. Some 470 square miles go to the free territory under the United Nations, the rest to Yugoslavia.

(The peace treaties for four other Axis satellites—Romania, Bulgaria, Finland and Hungary—were activated Monday by deposit of ratification instruments in the Kremlin, in Moscow.)

A day of Slav-Italian rioting in Trieste had resulted in the death of one man—second fatality in three days—and the wounding of 64 other persons, 11 of them Venezia Giulia policemen. Twenty-four Italian partisans were arrested.

Aged Sisters Found Near Starvation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two aged and enfeebled sisters, forcibly removed by police from their junk-littered apartment were reported today to be in serious condition from malnutrition.

For 10 days the once-prosperous seamstresses, Francis Bittner, 89, and Molly Bittner, 91, had proudly shunned offers of kindly neighbors to feed and aid them.

Police who broke into the apartment Monday night, found one entirely helpless, the other barely able to move. Neither weighed more than 65 pounds.

The sisters had lived in seclusion since the death of a third sister, Rose, three years ago. During that period their apartment gradually filled with an accumulation of newspapers, cans, junk and odds and ends reminiscent of the Langley Collyer case in New York.

"They were too proud to ask for help," said the sisters' lawyer. "I think their only income was their old age pensions."

U.N. Assembly Warned Split By Russia, West, Must Heal

NEW YORK (CP)—The opening meeting of the United Nations' General Assembly was convened today amid solemn warnings that the growing split between Russia and the western powers must be stopped at all costs.

The 1947 session, facing an agenda crowded with critical problems, began at 11.09 a.m., E.D.T., under chairmanship of Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, holdover president of the special Palestine session held last spring.

The Assembly faced what seemed an inevitable showdown over Russian obstructionism which has dominated the organization's deliberations ever since they began two years ago.

55 COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

Delegates from the 55 member countries went out to the converted World Fair building full of fears and apprehensions, but determined to be optimistic that the peace-keeping agency could be made to work.

Canada's delegation leader, Louis St. Laurent, Secretary of State for External Affairs, admitted he was worried but determined in his belief that success could be attained.

"There are important divisions of opinion that might make our hopes of success look pretty flimsy," he said in an interview. "But there is a world-wide demand for a strong and efficient organization for peace and we have to think that failure is impossible."

The opening ceremonies were overshadowed by Monday's bitter fight in the Security Council when Russia's Andrei Gromkyo invoked the double veto in an attempt to keep the fiery Balkan problem away from the General Assembly.

The General Assembly is not constitutionally permittted to intervene in subject under active consideration by the Security Council.

FIVE HOURS OF DEBATE

The Balkan-Greece question has been a subject of bitter controversy in the Security Council and the United States' move to have it dropped so that it might be handled by the Assembly where the veto does not apply was fought by Russia and Poland.

Through a complicated interpretation of procedure the Soviet obstruction was overcome after five hours of hectic debate and the question now may be discussed and recommendations made by the Assembly.

Today's business was planned to bring an immediate election of an Assembly president and last-minute indications were that Australia's Secretary of External Affairs, Dr. H. V. Evatt, would be the choice.

Latest Decontrol Measure Slices Big Chunk Off Consumer Bankroll

By Canadian Press

The Canadian consumer winced today as the surgeon's knife of high prices sliced larger chunks off his bankroll without anaesthetic following Sunday's removal of wartime controls on a long list of goods and commodities.

Straws in the wind were price increases announced Monday:

Flour—Up 90 per cent from $4.50 to $8.55 a barrel at Edmonton and to more than $8 at Toronto.

Bread—Up three cents a loaf at Quebec, with a general increase of five cents predicted within a week.

Lumber—Up $5 to $8 per 1,000 feet at Vancouver.

BREAD, PASTRY PRICES

A wide increase in all bakery products was foreseen when bakers' current stocks of flour are used up and they have to buy at the higher prices in about a week.

In Vancouver members of the Master Bakers' Association predicted a rise of three cents a loaf in bread by Wednesday.

Also in Vancouver dealers forecast an immediate 25 per cent increase in women's shoes, clothing between 5 and 10 per cent, cereals about six cents a carton and a two-cent increase in popular brands of canned foods.

One cheering note sounded from Hamilton when the International Harvester Company of Canada Ltd. announced there would be no increase in farm implement prices despite the removal of controls.

Organized labor stirred as A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said in an Ottawa statement that "in effect, workers are being invited to seek new wage increases in order to meet higher living costs."

And the people's representatives responded to the sharp pain the average citizen was feeling in his pocketbook.

Federal authorities, who announced the removal of the controls, kept a close watch on retail prices of goods affected, with F. A. McGregor, combines investigation commissioner, warning the baking industry again any "collusion" to fix prices.

COLDWELL'S OPINION

The decontrol order was called by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, "a fatal step toward economic chaos and inevitable depression." The Toronto city council called on the federal government to restore control of prices and subsidies affecting the consumer prices of bread, milk and coal.

In Toronto Albert Deschamps, president of the Canadian Construction Association, said self-control was needed to prevent further increases in construction costs.

Urges Building Halt Until Costs Drop

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (Special to the Times)—B.C. municipalities were cautioned by B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, at the banquet of the Union of B.C. Municipalities Monday evening, that regardless of the urgent need for public works, they should be delayed until costs of materials and labor go down.

He pointed out during the past two years costs on one waterworks project planned by a municipality had gone up 58 per cent.

Councillors Balk At Voting Extra Pay

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (Special to the Times) — Delegates at the 44th session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities today shied away from asking for an amendment to the Municipal Act which would make it possible to pay extra grants to city council members doing special committee work.

Mayor Nora Arnold, only woman mayor, brought up the question because of heavy court of revision work. She insisted no man should lose a day's wages because of municipal duties.

Ald. Tom Brown, West Vancouver, proposed that elected representatives not settle their own indemnity, but that a specific scale be set up based on population, in steps of 2,500 in each city or district.

Rome Press Says Pact 'Infamous'

ROME (AP) — Spreading strikes that menaced her already shaky economy marked Italy's return to sovereignty today as the peace treaty with the winners of the Second World War took effect.

Rome newspapers declared the treaty "infamous" and a "dictate."

Adding their weight to a nine-day strike of more than 1,000,000 farm workers in the north, 850,000 metal workers began 48-hour walkout, protesting the high cost of living and demanding more pay. The farm workers seek an eight-hour day, increased pay and other concessions. Prices of some foods have doubled in the last six months.

In Rome a one-hour strike to protest high prices was called in offices of railroads and bus lines. In Palermo, Sicily, transport workers struck for higher pay.

United States diplomats here expressed belief that misery, rather than Communism, was the real force to be reckoned with in Italy and that the next seven months would test Italy's resistance to Communism.

"We think it is the primary Communist aim to take Italy by legal means," one of the diplomats said.

The diplomats regarded the farm strike in the predominantly Leftist north as an opening gun in the Communist campaign to harry to death the non-Communist, non-Socialist, Christian Democrat government of Premier Alcide de Gasperi.

Cameras Smashed At Funeral Of Slain Toronto Man

TORONTO (CP)—Police today sought two stranglers in the "lover's lane" killings of George Vigus and Iris Scott as one chapter of the bizarre murder case ended in violence at a graveside.

Relatives and friends of Vigus beat up two newspapermen Monday at his burial and smashed three cameras when they objected to pictures being taken. The disturbance occurred even as the committal service for Miss Scott went on at another grave less than 100 yards away.

And as the sombre proceedings took place in a drizzle of rain, police who had found a second piece of sash-cord in west-end High Park, located the keys to the car in which the bodies of the 21-year-old part-time artist and her 39-year-old friend were discovered stuffed early last Friday.

Still missing were two watches worn by the victims and Vigus' wallet. Finding of the second piece of cord led police to believe two persons were involved in the throttling of the couple and the fiendish cramming of the bodies in the locked luggage compartment of the car.

MUMBLED CURSES

Just as the last quiet words of committal were spoken Monday eight mourners at the Vigus graveside turned on reporters and camera men. They mumbled curses and shouted threats as they made for the newspapermen.

One threatened to throw a reporter in the grave—"a good place for rats"—another shouted: "You've caused all this trouble." The latter then ran at a photographer, tore the camera from his hands and bounced it over neighboring graves.

Police moved in to herd the mourners back to their cars. One man flicked with a handkerchief at mud on his coat. He had tackled his man as if in a rugby game.

They had disregarded pleading of a woman relative earlier at the funeral in a Yonge Street funeral home.

Half an hour before the service began, one of the men dashed through groups of bystanders threatening to "bust any damn camera that clicks, remember that."

The woman begged: "Please don't cause a disgraceful scene here."

Gerson Case Before Ottawa Grand Jury

OTTAWA (CP)—A charge of conspiracy against Harold Samuel Gerson, former Department of Munitions and Supply official, was one of three indictments handed to the Grand Jury of Carleton County when the Fall Assizes opened here Monday.

Gerson was convicted by a jury last September of conspiring to communicate confidential information to Russia. He was sentenced to five years in penitentiary. Recently the Ontario Appeal Court quashed the conviction on a technicality. Hearing of the case has been set for Oct. 6.

Guilty Of Arson, 3 Douks Sentenced To 7 Years In Jail

NELSON (CP) — Three Doukhobors, still protesting their innocence, were sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary in police court here Monday. Tina Rosensoff, Mike Bayoff and George Barisoff, who were convicted last week on arson charges, were sentenced by Judge E. P. Dawson. W. W. Ferguson was Crown prosecutor.

Last Tuesday the three pleaded not guilty to charges of unlawfully and wilfully setting fire, Aug. 6, to a building at Krestova owned by the Land Settlement Board of British Columbia.

"You have an utter disregard for the lives of others," Judge Dawson said in pronouncing sentence.

"You do not consider the laws of our country. You have substituted your own rules of conduct which permit you to undertake acts of terrorism. Unless such acts are stopped, it could lead to the overthrow of all constituted authority.

"None of you show the least bit of penitence."

Later in the day 13 Doukhobors came up for preliminary hearing on arson charges.

Two of them, Mike Reibin and Pete Demoskoff, were committed for trial before a court of higher jurisdiction by Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine on charges of setting fire to a Slocan Park church belonging to the Spiritual Community of Christ, May 19, 1947.

The other 11 men and women were charged in connection with the Krestova burning Aug. 6. Appearing were John Marazoff, Helen Marazoff, Fred Bayoff, Alex Legebokoff, Fanny Storgoff, Bill Olasoff, Zohar Barisoff, Mrs. George Barisoff, Alex Pankoff, Vera Pankoff and Annie Koftinoff.

Murder Charge Faced By 14-Year-Old Boy

HARRISON, N.J. (AP) — A murder complaint was filed against 14-year-old Fred Walter Smigelski Monday, a few hours after the sullen youth had calmly reenacted for police the kidnap-slaying of his 11-year-old pal in an abandoned warehouse.

Detective Capt. Arthur Ford signed the formal charge against the Newark boy, who Sunday night signed a confession for the Federal Bureau of Investigation admitting he had strangled John Preston Jr., Kearny, with a leather belt to prove that he was "no sissy."

The F.B.I. said Smigelski said he wanted to show he was superior because his mother had made him wash dishes.

New Judges Take Over Duties In B.C. Supreme Court

VANCOUVER—Two new B.C. Supreme Court justices—H. S. Wood and Norman Whittaker—were told Monday their predecessors in British courts had helped give the people their greatest gift," the free and impartial administration of justice."

The speaker was Lord Jowitt, Lord Chancellor of Great Britain and Ireland, Keeper of the King's Seal, and head of the British judicial system.

He was among members of the bench who welcomed new justices Wood and Whittaker to their new appointments.

Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris administered the oath of office and also welcomed the new appointees in a ceremony held in the Appeal Courtroom.

Chief Justice Farris told the new justices their oath of office was short but important.

"One of the foundations of our democracy is that the courts shall enforce and carry out the rules whereby people live in a democracy. Democracy can not stand without freedom of the courts to all the people."

Both the new justices replied, thanking members of their bench and bar for their congratulations and words of welcome to the new appointments.

Mr. Justice Wood's first case resulted in a divorce for Elizabeth Hazel Lambe of Shelbourne, Ont., from Thomas Duncan Lambe, undertaker, 306 East Eleventh, Vancouver.

Mr. Justice Whittaker granted a divorce in his first trial to Dorothy Frances Christina Mitchell, 1200 Brunette, Coquitlam, from Leslie Albert Mitchell, landscape gardener of Capilano highlands.

Tugboat Men, Miners Get Pay Increases

VANCOUVER (CP) — Signing of two new contracts Monday between C.I.U.-C.C.L. miners at Salmo and A.F.L.-T.L.C. tugboat employees with their respective employers brightened British Columbia's labor picture.

James Thompson, Canadian Seamen's Union official, said between 600 and 700 tugboat men will get a blanket wage raise of $15 a month across the board; eight days off per month, and 75 cents an hour for overtime in the new contract effective to July 1, 1948, signed with 11 Vancouver and one Victoria tugboat firm.

The contract, he said, established for the first time a minimum wage of $117.50 per month for deckhands, and $125 for cooks, and will call for $40,000 in retroactive pay to July 1.

At the Canadian Exploration Ltd. operations at the Salmo Emerald tungsten mine, 125 members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers gained a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour in a new contract signed in the office of the labor relations board.

Capt. K. F. Adams Named Director Of Naval Reserves In Canada

Following a year's service afloat in command of the cruiser Uganda, Capt. Kenneth F. Adams, R.C.N., assumed the dual appointment of Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel and Director of Naval Reserves, it was announced today at Naval Service Headquarters in Ottawa. Capt. Adams succeeds Capt. Hugh F. Pullen, O.B.E., R.C.N., recently appointed Captain "D," Canadian Destroyer Flotilla, and commanding officer of the Tribal class destroyer Nootka.

In his new appointments, Capt. Adams will be in general charge of naval divisions across Canada.

Capt. Adams was born in Victoria, B.C., Sept. 6, 1903. He graduated from the Royal Naval College of Canada in 1922, but no naval vacancies existed at the time. He accordingly entered the merchant service and attained his master's certificate. He joined the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve in 1928, and a few months later entered the R.C.N. permanent force as lieutenant.

Capt. Adams commanded the auxiliary cruiser Prince David for most of 1941 and in December became commanding officer of the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks at Halifax.

METAL SOUVENIR

He had seven months of operational service at sea in 1943 as commanding officer of the Canadian destroyer Assiniboine. A jagged chunk of metal torn from a U-boat's hull was a prized souvenir of a battle fought by the ship while Capt. Adams was in command.

CAPT. ADAMS

In December, 1943, he became Director of Warfare and Training at Naval Service Headquarters. When the Royal Canadian Navy opened its Bermuda training base, H.M.C.S. Somers Isles, in 1944, Capt. Adams went there as commanding officer. He commanded the Tribal class destroyer Iroquois for five months in 1945. A year as commanding officer of the navy's shore establishment at Halifax, H.M.C.S. Stadacona, preceded his appointment to the Uganda in July, 1946.

Bigger Role Urged For Unemployment Insur. Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—Judge W. J. Lindal of Winnipeg, chairman of the National Employment Committee, said today he felt the employment services of the Unemployment Insurance Commission should be more than a "glorified employment office."

In an address at the opening of a two-day meeting of the committee, Judge Lindal said he felt the aim of the commission should be to keep unemployment down to its minimum.

"The work of a mere clearing-house for bringing workers to employers and vice versa is mainly administrative in character,' he said, "whereas the more difficult employment problem, requiring constant thought and at times exhaustive study, is that of keeping the number of unemployed down to a minimum and maintaining the requirements of employers for labor at a maximum.

"Even though that problem is national in character and primarily for the government and through it the Department of Labor, yet a public body such as the commission, so close in its daily contacts to employment conditions, can be of immeasurable assistance to a government and a department of labor.

"Employment service is not on its highest level unless the organization is so all-embracing and so efficient that employers and employees, and indeed every citizen within the state, can feel that at every stage, from the obtaining of employment to the payment of insurance benefits, all is being done which can reasonably be done within the type of democracy we have chosen and the type of world in which we live."

Defence Department Investigates Boosts In Allowances For Troops

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's servicemen, too, are feeling the pinch of higher living costs, and the Defence Department, which will launch a recruiting drive this month, has under review the possibility of increasing subsistence allowances, it was learned today. However, it is not known when a decision will be reached.

The allowances—food and lodging—have been under review for some time because of the effect of rising costs on members of the permanent armed forces, most of whom still are stationed outside permanent department quarters.

UP 15.8 POINTS

They were boosted over the prewar and wartime scales, but since the last increase in April, 1946, the cost of living has gone up 15.8 points to 136.6 as at July, 1947.

The allowances vary according to rank, ranging from $45 a month for a private to $80 a month for a lieutenant-colonel. As in the case of basic pay, the allowances were placed on a parity last year for all comparable ranks and trades in the navy, army and air force. In prewar and war years each service had its own rate of pay and allowances.

Defence Minister Claxton said recently there was no thought of granting a general pay increase to members of the forces. He said the rates of pay were fixed last year to compare favorably with those paid in what might be considered corresponding civilian industries.

However, he said, the matter of allowances was constantly under review. His statement set off speculation that an increase would be made soon, particularly for those in the lower pay brackets.

No children's allowances are paid to married personnel by the Defence Department. In wartime the allowances amounted to $13 for the first child, $12 for the second, $10 for the third, and $8 each for the fourth, fifth and sixth.

RE-ENLISTMENTS

Department officials state there has been no "wholesale" exodus of men from the forces because of dissatisfaction with pay or allowances. There was always a certain number who left to take more remunerative, short-term jobs in civilian industry. Many of these later tried to re-enlist, prefering the long-term treatment provided by the forces.

The officials said one thing which was eating into the pay of officers and men was the payment of back pension for their service during the war years. However, these payments would return to them when they retired.

LONDON — In co-operation with the fleets of 13 other nations, Britain has helped to clear 140,000 square miles of sea of mines laid during the war. The largest share of the work has fallen to Britain's peacetime navy and it is hoped all European water will be free of mines by next year.

Dollar Shortage Cuts U.K. Imports Of B.C. Salmon

OTTAWA (CP)—Final agreement on the amount of British Columbia's canned salmon pact the United Kingdom will purchase this year was announced Monday by the permanent British food mission here.

Neither the British mission nor B.C. representatives who have been negotiating with them here would indicate the amount to be taken, but it presumably will be less than 40 per cent as a prior agreement for contract for this amount already has been canceled because of Britain's dollar shortage.

S. M. Rosenberg of Vancouver, chairman of the B.C. Salmon Canners' Committee, and associates who conducted the talks with the British mission said they had agreed to the British announcement and had nothing to add.

The new plan will mean larger supplies of canned salmon in Canadian retail stores, though with no change in prices. United States prices are approximately 25 per cent or higher than those in Canada, but as the American tariff is 25 per cent, Canadian canners receive the same net return on either market.

The industry is expected to experience no difficulty in disposing of any surplus left over from the smaller British contract. There still are such traditional markets as Australia, New Zealand and the British West Indies, if those countries will grant import permits.

Counsel Wins Delay In Strikers' Trial

BURNABY (CP)—Contending Premier John Hart did not have the right to sign an order for the prosecution of 82 striking steelworkers under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act because he is not the Minister of Labor, defence counsel R. J. McMaster Monday won an adjournment until Wednesday of the case in police court here.

Magistrate Graham Ladner ordered the adjournment to give Prosecutor Gordon Scott time to secure evidence to back up his argument—that the Premier had such power as acting minister.

Mr. McMaster claimed Magistrate Ladner did not have jurisdiction to hear the case as Labor Minister Pearson should have acted personally.

WHAT DOES HE WANT?

FOR SOME BURNING REASON WHICH he has not chosen to elaborate, Mr. Harold Pritchett, Secretary-Treasurer of the British Columbia Federation of Labor (C.C.L.), is still pestering the government to call a special session of the Legislature to reconsider "Bill No. 39." With the hope of bringing pressure to bear on Mr. Hart, he has circularized all the members of the House, perhaps implying for their benefit that unless they accede to his and his organization's wishes, they may live to rue the day in the political sense of the term. To all of which the Premier, in official and categorical language, has replied that he has no intention of squandering the taxpayers' money merely because certain aspects of the new labor law do not conform to the specific desires of Mr. Pritchett and the members of his C.C.L.-C.I.O. unions. What a fine kettle of fish it would be if the men in charge of the conduct of the affairs of the province were to call a special session every time they received complaints about this or that law enacted by the elected representatives of the people!

Mr. Pritchett's course is plain. Let him state in simple terms to what sections of "Bill No. 39" he objects and, more particularly, why he and his friends object to them. Were he to follow this advice—and we do not suppose he feels inclined so to do—the taxpayers of all shades of political opinion would be in a position to place their own value on the merits or demerits of his demand upon the Premier. At the moment the great majority of the people of the province insist that the law which is less than six months old should at least have a fair trial before the government heeds the insistence of a very small minority of the public—a minority, by the way, which appears to be less concerned with the furtherance of the common weal than it is with the promotion of some strange concepts of labor-management relationships. The tail may wag the dog in the Soviet Union, so to speak; but the average British Columbian hates any form of regimentation.

If the Secretary-Treasurer of the B.C. F. of L. fears lest the operation of "Bill No. 39" may eventually weaken the heavy domination which some union leaders exercise over their respective memberships, if Mr. Pritchett detests the idea of government-supervised strike votes—if these matters, among other things, comprise his composite bone of contention, then let him be honest with himself, his supporters and the public at large and say so. His refusal to speak his piece without equivocation on these points will furnish its own commentary. Not a single British Columbian would desire or dare to try to prevent him from taking this simple course, especially in times like these, loaded as they are with social and economic dynamite. But all fair-minded folk will know where to place the blame if Mr. Hart's sensible refusal to call a special session of the Legislature should provoke precipitate action by Mr. Pritchett and his minority following.

CRUCIAL FOR ALL

THE PRICE INDEX ON WHOLESALE food in the United States reached an all-time high last week, bringing sharp statistical emphasis to a condition of which the average American housewife had been cognizant for some time. The repercussions in the country to the south of us will be considerable, for a continuing increase in the cost of living will likely bring consequent demands from labor for further boosts in salaries and wages, thus fostering the vicious spiral. Add to this the general dislocation attendant upon rapid adjustments in the business cycle, and it may readily be seen that the prosperity accompanying the current post-war boom in the United States could carry within itself the seeds of its own dissolution. They need never come to flower, but they are there.

The effects of the present situation, however—and they are duplicated in growing degree in our own country—cannot be confined to this side of the Atlantic. A large part of Europe is subsisting almost entirely on what can be obtained from the United States in the form of purchases, loans and outright grants. Anything affecting the American economy is bound to be felt in aggravated form in those countries which are struggling along much nearer the subsistence level than is their benefactor. A portent of this was seen in the statement yesterday by Senator Robert Taft—a possible Republican nominee in next year's Presidential election—in which he urged that exports from the United States should be cut in order to keep down the price of basic foods. Taft also advocated that Americans "eat less extravagantly" as one means of checking the rise; but he added that exports could not continue at the "rate of 15 billion dollars a year without having an effect on prices." Those words, considering that the "Marshall Plan" has yet to be endorsed by the next session of Congress, must have sent a shudder through the bread lines of Europe.

There has been no indication so far in the United States that rising prices have seriously influenced the standard of living. A Congressional study reveals that a supply of food for family use that could have been bought in 1935-39 for $100 would have cost $193 if bought last July. However, wages in many cases have kept pace with such an increase. The investigation, in fact, showed that most families were buying more and better foods. Such a trend is far from the case in Europe, where more violent inflation has left income far behind prices. In Britain, buckling down to controls and intensified austerity; in France, struggling through one political crisis after another and fighting a critical battle of production and rising costs; in Italy, left with scarcely more than a month's supply of dollar currency in her national reserve; in Germany, Greece, Turkey, and other lands, there will be anxious eyes cast on United States economic developments. Only in the Kremlin and its various Middle European branch offices will there be joy through adversity.

A SYMBOL

IN THE SKY OVER LONDON YESTERday a single Hawker Hurricane Fighter flew—a reminder of the grim days of the Battle of Britain which reached its peak just seven years ago. The symbolism of the flight was thoroughly appreciated by the thousands of Britons who watched the aircraft's course. They will not forget the tense days of that epic of heroism when a few young men turned back the tide of German aggression represented in the numerically superior forces of the Luftwaffe.

It was a time to pause in Britain, as the small plane raced overhead. Facing a civilian life in some instances equally as rigorous as during war years, the inhabitants of the "tight little isle" could still give thanks that they are escaping greater agonies—agonies with which they were only too familiar when the blitz rained death and destruction from the heavens. And if, as some suggest, the spirit of the nation has flagged now the ordeal of combat is over, the people have still before them the inspiring example of "the few." Having been in the front line, they can count as a blessing the fact that they are not now subject to the bombs of the enemy. Though the economic road before them is rough and tedious, they have emerged from a journey fraught with infinitely greater physical dangers.

Seven years ago the people of Britain faced the threat of extinction as a nation. They beat back that threat. They are still paying for the achievement of victory and will continue to pay for years to come in labor. Yet outside observers who have misgivings over their ability to come through their current difficulties show little appreciation for the inherent courage of the men and women who looked aloft in London yesterday. Pessimists have little regard for the symbol of the lone plane winging its way through the autumn skies above the metropolis.

NOT BY THREATS

THE STRONG FEELINGS OF THE Arabs in regard to the Palestinian problem have to a large extent been overshadowed by the more spectacular developments of Jewish violence in that unhappy land. But a reminder that such feelings exist—equally as deep and intense as those of the Jews—is contained in the warning of the seven states of the Arab League that partition of the Holy Land will result in war. Five of the Arab League countries—Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Syria—are members of the United Nations, and their challenge to the organization of which they are a part will cause serious concern. The General Assembly, which opened its sessions today, will be seeking a solution to the Palestine problem on the basis of recommendations by the special commission which studied the situation. It should not be forced to go into its deliberations with the threat of Arab defiance hanging over it. Such an attitude on the part of the Arabs will do their cause more harm than good. The nations that wish to see a just settlement, already disgusted with the activities of the Jewish underground extremists, will be little disposed to allow new threats to influence them.

FOR THE TWENTIETH TIME

TWICE YESTERDAY AT LAKE SUCcess Mr. Gromyko exercised the veto. The delegate of the Soviet Union objected to the United States proposal to take the Balkan problem out of the orbit of the Security Council and transfer it to the General Assembly—where majority rule prevails. The lugubrious representative of the Kremlin thus has now employed his prerogative just a score of times. But five hours of hectic debate produced a procedural formula under which the larger body will have an opportunity to discuss the subject and make recommendations.

Repetition of the fact that the "Big Three" originally proclaimed that the veto would be invoked only under exceptional circumstances has become monotonous. To be sure, two of the triumvirate have avoided its use; but Russia's disinclination to "play the game" is imparting a farcical touch to the deliberations of the Security Council. It is to be hoped the General Assembly will find a way to clear the air and throw a bright light on the Soviet Union's intentions.

Beware a dirty typewriter. The linotype man will think you mean France when you refer to Franco and Franco when you mean France.

Spending To Save

BRITISH COLUMBIA is no longer disposed to light the cigar of its timber prosperity from the flaming million dollar bill of forest fires. Instead, it is taking the million dollars, supplementing it, and seeking to establish a new high in protection to guarantee more prosperity cigars for years to come.

To put it more factually, the provincial government has raised its appropriation for forest protection from the $500,000 to $600,000 the department was allowed five or six years ago from general revenue to $1,250,000 this year and has added to that sum approximately $350,000 more from a special tax on potential timber lands to expand safeguards in the woods.

THE RESULT? Forest fire losses are going down. They cannot show an absolute consistency in their reduction. Too many factors enter into the situation to plot an even descent. But the figures are gratifying. This year, for instance, although totals have not yet been finally compiled, the loss shows every indication of being below that of 1946 which, in itself, was less than half of the average for the previous 10 year period.

Climatic conditions have had a bearing on the favorable statistics for 1947, Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests, admits. "But", he adds, "I do think our protective, preventive and combative measures have been largely responsible." The department has for its objective an annual expenditure of $2,500,000 on this work, a figure suggested by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan as the result of his inquiries as commissioner into the forest industries of British Columbia. Mr. Kenney expects to reach that figure in another four years through increased appropriations from the Legislature and from the revenues derived from taxes on the potential forest lands.

STATISTICS TELL an interesting story of protection and loss. In 1925 the department had for its general combat fund $501,000, of which the government supplied $300,000. In that year total losses through forest fires amounted to $1,205,000, including $665,000 to the forests themselves and $540,000 to other property. By 1930 the defensive fund had risen to $842,000, of which the province supplied $480,000, and losses were $1,746,000, with damage to the forests themselves amounting to $1,408,000.

During the depression years protective appropriations were cut to $406,000, including $300,000 from the government in 1935. Fortunately, however, other factors reduced the extent of fires and loss amounted to only $289,000, of which $68,000 only represented destruction of timber. Allocations were raised again in 1940 to $740,000, including the government contribution of $500,000. But that year there was $718,000 damage from fire, $486,000 to the woods themselves. By 1945 the government had raised its contribution to $650,000 and returns from other sources carried the fund to $907,000. Despite this increase, however, $1,443,000 was lost by fire, $1,093,000 in timber.

LAST YEAR saw the Legislature's vote reach the $1,000,000 mark, to which was added a supplementary $367,000 from protection taxes. Loss was reduced to $358,000, of which $192,000 represented destroyed timber.

One surface anomaly may suggest itself from the figures cited above. If $2,500,000 were to be spent on protection, that sum would represent more than any actual fire loss reported in the table. That, however, is a distortion. Destruction during 1930, the highest year noted, was set at $1,741,000. The figure represents only stumpage values on the basis of rates then current. Figured in terms of actuality it is compounded many times. Stumpage value at the rate of four dollars a thousand, for instance, would indicate only a fraction of the loss. It fails to take into consideration the returns from that initial sum to the logger, to the mill operator and employee, to the retailers, to the shippers, to the manufacturers. A four dollar a thousand valuation for the standing tree may pyramid itself to $60 a thousand or more when the lumber is laid down on the homesite for a new builder.

FORCES OVER WHICH men have no control can temporarily frustrate the department's developing campaign to cut down forest loss. An abnormally protracted dry season, a high wind and a crown fire, or one in snag infested woods, can render all but futile human efforts to fight it. But the forestry men will proceed, as far as possible, in their efforts to stop the appalling waste from timber that goes up in smoke annually.

What does the expenditure of more money—the doubling of the appropriation since 1930—mean? It means that scientific application and distribution of tools, of lookouts, of new and improved equipment can send alert supression crews out to fight fire within three minutes of the report of an outbreak. It means that roads furnishing access to valuable stands can be cut through the bush and that additional staff can be employed to furnish efficiency and speed where those elements are vital.

AND WHAT DIVIDENDS does this policy pay? Last year, of 95 fires reported, 64 were confined to less than a quarter acre, 13 were held to less than an acre, five were restricted to under five acres, seven to less than 50 acres, and only six got beyond that area. Yet each of these 95 was a potential conflagration that could have been a major disaster to the province's forst industries and their dependents. A.H.S.

Britain Prepares For Atomic Power

By IAN COX

TWO RECENT ITEMS of news relating to atomic power have aroused interest in Britain. The first is that Britain's first atomic pile started at the government Atomic Energy Research Establishment at Hartwell, near Didcot, Berkshire, on August 17. This is the first major unit to be completed in Britain.

It is known as "Gleep" — a shortened form of "graphite low energy experimental pile" — and has been built primarily for experimental work in nuclear physics. Until the new and more powerful pile comes into operation at Hartwell, next year, however, it will be used also for the production of small quantities of radio-active materials needed in biological and medical research, both of which have received great stimulation from the recent practicability of obtaining artificial isotopes of certain elements that, in their natural states, are not radioactive.

MEDICAL RESEARCH

THE PRINCIPAL USE of these radioactive isotopes has been as "tracers" in research; since because of their radioactivity they may be followed with instruments designed to detect and measure it. In medicine, a limited use of radio-active isotopes is found in cases where certain organs or tissues tend to concentrate particular elements. Thereby such tissues can be subjected to a brief internal radiation, sufficient in certain cases to restrain any abnormal activity, but not of sufficient duration to cause permanent damage.

The other item of news about atomic power is contained in a report of the work of the Scientific Advisory Committee of the Trades Union Congress. This includes observations on possible industial developments to which such power may lead in the forseeable future.

LARGE UNITS ONLY

The generation of nuclear energy from anything less than a large stationary power unit is not considered a likely development within the next 20 years. It will not, therefore, be a probable competitor of the internal combustion engine so far as vehicles are concerned, in the forseeable future.

In the matter of large atomic power stations, on the other hand, it is estimated that within five years Britain will be in a position to set about designing reliable plans for large-scale power stations, to allow a fair estimate to be made of the cost of atomic power production; and if the technical prospects look as favorable as they do now, it is quite possible that by 1970 a large proportion of power in Britain will be obtained from atomic energy.

NEW INDUSTRIES

It is not expected, however, that such developments would begin to have an appreciable effect on the coal-mining industry for at least 20 years after their realization. Even then coal is likely to remain Britain's main source of fuel and power for some considerable time.

Among the industrial developments which would accompany the realization of atomic power in Britain, the committee foresees, first of all, an extensive refining industry for uranium and thorium, brought in from overseas "as fuel." The heavy chemical industry would then have to cope with the manufacture of these metals into a form suitable for use "as nuclear fuel."

Again, big demands would be expected on the engineering industry for the production of pumping machinery, gas and steam turbines and equipment for the chemical industries. There would, too, be a large demand for high-grade materials of many kinds not needed hitherto. Examples are: special heat and corrosive resistant steels and non-ferrous metals, pure graphite and new types of refractories.

Eire Combines Plenty And Scarcity

From London Calling

HOW it comes about that one little square of the British Isles—by no means a wealthy square of it, either—has become the land of plenty for the English tourist is one of the strange paradoxes of these strange times. In fact, it is "Irish."

Economically, Southern Ireland and the mainland of Britain are closely integrated. Eire, because it is a sparsely populated, high food-producing country, has a large export of dairy produce, bacon, and meat. But, against that, the country has no coal. Britain, lined with coal, does not produce sufficient food for her needs. So the historic trading between the two countries has been food for coal. The two countries rely one on the other for an essential need.

WAR DISLOCATION

But although the economic relationship is so close, the political relationship between Britain and Eire, as all the world knows, has been almost a classic of mutual bad management. During the war, de Valera's government persisted in neutrality. Britain, fighting for her life, had no coal to spare for a neutral country. But food, unlike coal, being a perishable product, Eire had to go on sending her products to Britain It is only fair to say, also that Eire continued to send her food because there was never any doubt as to where her private, as apart from her public sympathies lay. Apart from any other consideration, 150,000 southern Irish volunteers were fighting with the British forces.

So, all through the war, Britain was piling up a huge debt for food produce with Eire and no coal was going to Eire to pay for it. In Eire, coal starvation broke down the transport services. Cooking, heating and lighting plants broke down, and the southern Irish were driven back to using the traditional fuel of Ireland, the peat out of Irish bogs — the turf, as they call it —for almost every public service. Now, peat is admirable to smell in an open grate, but it is poor fuel for commercial purposes. The result of it all is that Eire, economically, has been severely hit.

SMUGGLING FLOURISHES

But, meanwhile, Britain—still unable to produce the coal that Eire wants more than anything else — is sending manufactured goods to pay off her debt. All the things made in Britain that cannot be bought in Britain are displayed in the windows of the Dublin shops. The local population is mostly too poor to buy the articles. And the English tourists, starved for something to buy, are carrying all they can back to England. To try to check the traffic, Eire now has what is undoubtedly the stiffest customs barrier in Europe. But you cannot strip every traveler; and although the confiscations by customs are big enough to provide regular two-day auction sales, plenty of goods are smuggled back to England again.

It is not until you probe into the homes of the peasant folk in de Valera's country that you discover the true state of affairs. The standard of living at the large and fashionable hotels in Dublin is very different from the standard of living in the two-roomed, white-fronted, thatched log cabins of Connemara. The food and the goods are there, but the people are too poor to buy them.

NEW AFFECTION

For Eire, for de Valera and his ministers, the present situation contains as many problems as most other countries in Europe. One effect is that there is a noticeable change in the attitude of Eire's government towards Britain. There is a great deal more tolerance and understanding.

Among the people themselves—apart from a few wild fanatics —most of the old rancour has gone. Indeed there is an affection now between the southern Irish and English such as has not been known for hundreds of years. The war did that. And, although the rather puerile Irish censorship stopped the story getting round, Dublin celebrated VE day as enthusiastically as any of us. The Union Jack floated from the top of Trinity College; the crowds on College Green sang God Save the King; and every girl in Dublin who could, wore a posy of white and red flowers, tied with blue ribbon.

Now, the English tourist in Dublin is offered the best that Eire has got, not only for the money in his pocket, but because, at last, the Irish are beginning to feel that the people in Britain have had a raw deal, too.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

AS THE signs read the battle is about to be joined between the eastern bloc (headed by Russia) and the western bloc (led by the United States) to determine whether Italy shall become another satellite of the Soviet Union or whether she shall be an independent democracy.

It's an ironic circumstance that this fresh tribulation should descend on the beaten and distraught Romans just as the signing of the peace treaty by the Allies formally marked the end of the Second World War for Italy. Stripped of much money and territory and, what hurts worst, of her position as a great power, her government now is facing a fight for its life with a powerful communist party.

The Allies signed treaties with four other states besides Italy—Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. All except Italy already are within the Russian zone of influence. That circumstance isn't a happy omen for Italy. It means that the forthcoming fight between communism and the anti-red forces is going to be a tough one.

MARKED FOR REDS

It long has been obvious that Italy was one of the nations specially marked out for communization, and the big red party in that country has been doing yeoman's work in preparing the ground for a coup. Recently this preparation has been spurred because of the advent of the Marshall Plan for European rehabilitation, which has as one of its objects to help countries like Italy defend themselves against aggressive communism.

With the hope of forcing the issue in Italy before the Marshall Plan can become effective, the communists are adopting drastic measures. Sunday, on the eve of the formal ratification of the Italian peace treaty, Palmiro Togliatti, Italian communist leader, made a bitter speech in which he charged America with "working eagerly to prepare a new war." He also criticized President Truman and Pope Pius.

While this speech was being delivered the country was being torn by labor troubles which Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democratic Party charges were inspired by leftists.

Harvests were threatened by a strike of 1,000,000 farm laborers. Leaders of 850,000 metal workers announced that they would begin a 48-hour strike today.

And on Sept. 8 Togliatti was quoted in press dispatches from Modena to Rome newspapers as declaring before a partisan rally:

"We shall call the Italian people to fight for liberty which is threatened by the government."

MOLOTOV PLAN

It is worthy of note that the United States and Britain must withdraw their occupation troops from Italy within 90 days of the signing of the peace treaty, thus leaving the government to look after itself. Moreover Moscow has let it be known that there is a Molotov rehabilitation plan ready for the relief of those who desire it. This is bolstered by the announcement of a bumper Russian grain harvest — the Soviet Union being virtually the only area in all Europe where crops haven't failed or been bad. So the word has gone out that Russia will be able to provide bread for the needy.

France being another country in which Russia is particularly interested, the French communists also have been redoubling their efforts to gain control. Russia has let it be known that the proposed Franco-Italian customs union is regarded with disfavor in Moscow, and is holding out the prospect of wheat for France which is short of bread.

Thus the war of the isms in Europe is rushing towards what looks to be a climax. The economic crisis will bring the thing to a head soon if nothing else does.

Ottawa Journal

On the 800th occasion of the founding of Moscow Mr. Stalin took occasion to say:

"For imperialists, war is a most profitable thing. It is not surprising that agents of imperialism are endeavoring in this way or that to provoke a new war."

Only one country, following World War II, has gained new territory; gone in for "imperialism" with a vengeance. That country is Russia.

Russian action is often baffling. More baffling still is the talk of Russian leaders.

Germans Plead With Mayor Here For Food Parcels

The heads of two German families in the British zones have written to Mayor Percy George appealing for his aid in securing food for them and their families to supplement the present supply they are getting.

Mayor George, in turn, sent the letters on to officials of the Mayor's Fund, set up to provide parcels for Britain for their consideration. The fund officials have decided that, as the money donated to the fund, was intended to go toward making up food parcels for the United Kingdom, the money could not be used to aid the Germans.

One letter is from a Herbert Schumann, who writes: "Sir,—God Bless you! I beg your pardon because this letter—and many a grammatical error therein. It is written in a very desperate situation and condition.

"My family is a refugee one out of the Russian zone and we have lost all goods and chattels. Our chiefly distress, however, is existing of the extremely insufficient nourishment we still always have during two full years now!"

The second letter comes from Hans Joachim Frost, who lives in Schleswig-Holstein. There are five in the family, he writes, and they come from Silesia, which is now Polish. They have a neighbor, Herr Frost says, who wrote and had success, so he thought he would write in the hopes of receiving aid as well.

Addresses of the two Germans can be obtained at the office of the city clerk.

British Dislike Government More Than They Do Attlee

From BRITISH INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

While there are actually more voters in Britain dissatisfied with the government's record to date than are satisfied, actually, the record shows that the personal popularity of Clement Attlee, Prime Minister, has not suffered as much as one might expect.

Today, the almost paradoxical situation is that slightly more than half the British voters (as reflected in a survey by the British Institute of Public Opinion) say they approve of Mr. Attlee as Prime Minister, slightly more than half the population say they are dissatisfied with the government's record to date. It is evident that complaints against the government tend to be placed on the doorsteps of ministers other than the Prime Minister.

Here is the trend on Mr. Attlee's standing with the voters:

"On the whole, do you approve or disapprove of Mr. Attlee as Prime Minister?"

	Approve	Disapprove	No Opinion
August, 1945	66%	19%	15%
October, 1946	53	35	12
March, 1947	46	45	9
June, 1947	51	36	13
Today	51	37	12

As for the record of the government, various British Institute polls show the trends to have been as follows:

"On the whole, are you satisfied or dissatisfied with the government's record to date?"

	Satisfied	Dissatisfied	No Opinion
July, 1946	42%	45%	13%
October, 1946	44	43	13

Donate Blood For 16,000 Transfusions

Seven months have elapsed since the British Columbia division of the Canadian Red Cross instituted the first free civilian blood transfusion service in Canada.

Since February at scores of clinics in Vancouver, Victoria and other towns and cities in the province, some 2,000 gallons of blood have been collected from voluntary donors . . . enough to give nearly 16,000 transfusions.

Doctors throughout the province are enthusiastic as they see their patients responding to the blood transfusions which are now free to those who need them.

"We find this free blood and plasma invaluable," reports Dr. Lionel Appleby, surgeon at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver, where nearly 400 bottles are used monthly. "It has revolutionized the whole blood transfusion service in Vancouver by making blood available to everyone on short notice. It is particularly useful for those patients who formerly could not afford the supply of blood that would give them a better chance for life."

The Victoria branch of the Red Cross will conduct a two weeks registration of donors to keep this blood supply flowing to those who need it. During this period 20,000 households will be contacted and pledge cards distributed.

Fencing Classes To Begin At Y.M.C.A.

Fencing, an international sport that is practiced in many countries af the world, will soon be added to the Y.M.C.A.'s athletic program.

Commencing Oct. 8 mixed classes under the direction of Harold Evans will be held at the "Y." The course will last three months and all equipment will be provided.

One of the most fascinating and scientific sports in existence, fencing had its birth from the Spaniards in the 14th century. It rapidly spread through Italy and France and thence to England. Italy established schools and a fencing tradition while the French developed a technique of their own.

Today the French style is predominant in France, England, United States and Canada. Of the three schools it is the most artistic. Each school has taken something from the other and the style of today could more correctly be called that of a mixed school.

There are three weapons in fencing, the foil, the dueling sword and the sabre. Ladies usually rest content with the lighter weapon, the foil.

As a form of sport, both mentally and physically, it is in a class by itself. It develops poise, initiative, speed, agility, grace, strength and alertness. Intelligence is a prime necessity in fencing as one does not merely fence with brawn and muscle but also with brain and nerve.

Mr. Evans will explain fundamentals of fencing on registration night at the Y.M.C.A., Oct. 1.

Lois Brain Weds Robert Campbell

Miss Lois Mary, only daughter of Major and Mrs. H. A. Brain, became the bride of Roderick Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Port Coquitlam, B.C., in an early evening ceremony Sept. 12 in the vestry of Queen of Peace Church.

For the ceremony performed by Father Lewis McLellan, the bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, George T. Brain. Tall baskets of white and gold chrysanthemums, white asters and goldenrod created the wedding setting.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1100 Esquimalt Road. Mrs. Brain assisted the bride and groom in receiving guests. Father MacLellan gave the toast to the bride. A three-tier wedding cake, flanked by pink tapers and vases of flowers, centred the table, covered with a cutwork cloth.

Embossed stain styled with classic princess slenderness fashioned the bride's full-skirted gown, slightly in train. Her circular net veil was held to her hair with sweetheart rosebuds, the same blossoms repeated in her bouquet of swainsonia and stephanotis, arranged colonial style.

Bridal attendant was Miss Thelma Burnett. Her gown of powder blue crepe was designed with hoop skirt. She wore a shoulder-length veil, held with a bandeau of pale pink carnations, and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Robert McWhinney was best man. Ushers were Arthur MacTavish, Kenneth Bishop, and Arthur Smith.

Motoring to Portland, Oregon, on their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will make their home at Port Coquitlam, on return. The bride traveled in a grey afternoon frock, brown swing back gabardine coat, and matching hat and accessories.

Dean's Council Guides Freshmen

All set for your freshman year in college?

You'll adjust more rapidly to college life if you'll map your campaign before you walk through the ivied gates.

Ready to master-mind your strategy is Dean Florence Beaman of New York University, whose advice is sought by hundreds of freshmen each semester.

When you arrive on campus, says Dean Beaman, plunge right into campus activities in which you are interested. Whether it's dramatics or hiking, through such activity you'll quickly meet kindred souls, says the dean.

But don't, cautions our strategist, be too hasty about singling out one or two girls as bosom chums. "If you limit your circle of friends, you miss the fun offered by broader participation in college life," she says.

And don't, warns the dean, let your new-found freedom from home restrictions tempt you to stay up until all hours. Or nibble between meals on rich tid-bits. Or shun physical exercise. These indulgences drain vitality, dull your alertness and are apt to have a bad effect on your complexion and your figure.

Swedish Girl Cytologist Visits Experimental Station

An interesting visitor to the city is dark-haired Miss Berta Danielsson who has an unusual vocation for a young women, that of horticulturist specializing in cytological work in connection with plant breeding.

On a year's leave of absence from a fruit breeding experimental station at Balsgard, Tjalkestad, in southern Sweden, the intelligent young miss, in her early twenties, is working under the direction of M. B. Davis, Dominion horticulturist, at the central experimental farm in Ottawa.

Marking her first visit to this country, Miss Danielsson has been in Canada since February. She is gathering new ideas and sources of plant breeding material to report to her home experimental station, and has already visited the experimental station in Morden, Man. Before returning to Ottawa, she will tour the experimental station at Summerland.

One of the youngest persons ever entrusted by their government on such a mission, Miss Danielsson is taking keen interest in her tour, and is much impressed in the variety of trees, both native and cultivated.

In a voice slightly accented, and with decided English tones—having learned the English language from British tutors—the Swedish girl expresses her delight with Canada.

"The Rockies are so much higher and ever so much more rugged than the mountains in my country," she exclaims, her grey-blue eyes shining with enthusiasm.

Of much interest to Miss Danielsson is the variety of plums, and striking appearance of the new red graverstein and red king variety apple. She is being conducted around the Dominion Experimental Station by J. J. Woods, superintendent, and E. R. Hall in charge of tree, small fruits and and plant breeding.

Miss Danielsson leaves for Vancouver shortly, en route to Summerland, and then to Ottawa. At the beginning of the new year she will return to Sweden to give a full report to Balsgard Experimental Station.

Longer Skirts 'Immoral,' Says U.S. Minister

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP) —Rev. A. Powell Davies today appealed to women not to wear longer skirts.

"They are immoral," he declared in his pulpit at the All Souls Unitarian Church, "because they waste material that is desperately needed by the world's suffering people."

Dr. Davies said American women have been invited "to humiliate themselves by following these imbecilic fashion changes like a herd of ludicrous cattle." If they do so, he added, "their 20th century emancipation is just an empty boast."

"Greedy financial interests" propose to trick women into buying new clothes by radical fashion changes, he contended.

Women's Progressive Conservative Association will meet Thursday at 2.30 in Macdonald Hall, next to the Truth Centre on Fort Street. Guest speaker, L. W. Makovski.

Chop Suey, American Style

Chop Suey—American home style.

This labor-saving version of chop suey provides a novel one-dish meal.

CHOP SUEY

One pound ground beef, ½ cup chopped onion, ⅓ cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons fat, ¾ cup uncooked rice, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cup cooked mushrooms, 2 cups cooked tomatoes, 4 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper.

Brown ground beef, onion and green pepper in fat melted in a two-quart heat-resistant glass saucepan. To meat in the saucepan add rice, celery, mushrooms, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Cook, covered, over low heat for about one hour or until rice is done. Serve with egg noodle. (Serves 4-6.)

And here's a "different" dessert:

SNOW CAKE
CHOCOLATE CRUNCH

One-half cup shortening, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1 cup light corn syrup 2¼ cups sifted cake flour, 2¼ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, ½ cup milk, 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Blend shortening and orange rind; gradually add corn syrup, beating well after each addition. Add ⅓ of dry indregients which have been sifted together. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add remaining flour mixture alternately with milk and vanilla; mix well. Pour batter into two greased 8 or 9-inch pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. While still warm, spread chocolate crunch between layers and over top. (Yield: one 8 or 9-inch cake, 2 layers.)

CHOCOLATE CRUNCH

One and one-third cups semi-sweet chocolate bits (7-ounce package), 1 cup popped rice cereal.

Melt chocolate bits over hot water. Add crisp cereal; stir until well coated.

Let's Eat!

Hints—If you ever find yourself without baking powder at a critical moment, try making your own: Two teaspoons baking soda, 4½ teaspoons cream of tartar; 1½ teaspoons cornstarch.

Cocoa Syrup — One-half cup cocoa, one cup sugar, one cup water, pinch of salt. Combine cocoa and sugar, add water gradually and bring slowly to a boil, stirring constantly. Continue boiling and stirring until the mixture becomes thick. Keep in covered jar in refrigerator—use for drinks and sauces.

Sugar Syrup—One cup sugar, one cup boiling water. Combine sugar and water, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Boil for 10 minutes. Cool and bottle and use for fruit drinks.

Midsummer Pudding—Ingredients: One quart milk, sugar to taste, and a little butter. Bring to a boil. Add yolks of two eggs (well beaten) and one heaping tablespoon cornstarch dissolved in a little cold milk. Stir until thick, then cool. Have ready one or two bananas, one orange, and slice into dish. Pour custard over these. Beat whites of eggs with sugar, put on top, and serve.

Made-in-a-minute Pink Lemonade—Add juice from red canned fruit—as plums or berries or cherries to regular lemonade before sweetening. This is popular—as well as sugar saving.

Breakfast Tip — Cook rolled oats with half cup or more of light molasses instead of same amount of water. Reduce the sugar requirement, steps up the food-iron quota and tastes fine.

To Glaze Ham—30 to 45 minutes before ham is done, remove wrapping and rind, score fat. Stud with whole cloves and spread with one cup molasses or brown sugar. Continue baking until brown.

For Lunch—A good school-day sandwich filling for lunch at home or at school is chopped ripe olives, thinly sliced celery, and flaked salmon, seasoned to taste and held together with mayonnaise.

Fried Potato Pie — Have you ever grated raw white potatoes and sauteed them in drippings until crisp? Then slice canned spiced pork meats and place on top. When meat is hot, invert to serve.

Pimiento Cheese — Takes the inning when it alternates with layers of sliced cooked potatoes in midget ramekins. Add well-seasoned medium sauce to just coveer, top with bread crumbs and bake to brown.

A Dessert That's Different!—Lay a canned peach-half, rounded side up, in dessert dish. Then surround with chilled soft custard and top this with a thin layer of whipped cream or meringue.

Opponents Class Proposed Business Levy As Camouflaged Form Of Income Tax

By HELEN TOOTH

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Strong opposition to the recommendation of the executive at the 44th annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities that business tax be made mandatory on all municipalities developed from representatives of the smaller municipalities, Monday afternoon.

No decision was made after more than an hour's question and answer period with President W. C. Hamilton, of Port Alberni, repeatedly calling delegates to order as they attempted to discuss the merits or demerits of the tax—called by some "a camouflaged income tax—instead of merely asking questions.

R. R. F. Sewell, secretary of the union, explained the executive wished the tax to be mandatory so there would be no discrimination or unfair competition between businesses in different areas contiguous to each other. He strongly recommended that every detail in connection with its implementation should be statutory, to give a uniformity easily alterable when difficulties arise. He opposed a flat tax as inequitable, working to the disadvantage of the small business man.

Reeve A. I. Thomas, of Esquimalt, queried if beer parlors would be subject to the business tax the same as other businesses.

OPPOSE MANDATORY TAX

Mayor Jack Loutet, of North Vancouver, led the opposition to making the tax mandatory, or even having it at all. He insisted that the smaller municipalities would be at a grave disadvantage. "We should be concerned with protecting our citizens, getting benefits for them," he declared, "not with adding burdens to them."

Later in the discussion he accused the executive of wanting the tax only because it would make it easier for Vancouver to collect if it were mandatory. Acting Mayor Charles Jones, of Vancouver, demanded retraction of this "scurrilous remark," but Mayor Loutet would not.

Loud applause greeted Reeve N. Booth, of Langley, when he bluntly ordered the cities who want the business tax to go ahead if they want to and let the other smaller centres do without.

Councillor R. A. B. Wootten, of Oak Bay, agreed with this, as did Reeve E. C. Warren, of Saanich.

Ald. J. D. Cornett, of Vancouver, explained the executive wished to remove part of the burden from home-owners, who now pay 55 per cent of municipal taxes.

Municipalities such as Esquimalt with a preponderance of federally-owned property tax exempt were given encouragement in their fight to get payment in lieu of taxes from the Dominion by Tom Reid, M.P. for New Westminster.

He urged them to continue the fight, pointing out that Great Britain pays taxes for Crown property within cities or counties. "There should be closer co-operation between Dominion, province and municipalities," he declared. The municipalities have been left out of the picture too much so far as the Dominion is concerned."

SEEK TAX REMOVALS

Revisions to the School Act, abolition of the electricity tax, removal of obstructions to air craft, social assistance, and government policy on unemployment relief were among the subjects discussed by the close of the first day's session.

Eight resolutions were carried, one lost, and three withdrawn, while several on superannuation were tabled pending the report of the special committee headed by Mayor Percy George.

A Courtenay resolution asking that the 8 per cent war tax on electricity be abolished was embodied in a similar resolution from Trail and carried.

The convention will ask the provincial government to exempt municipalities from payment of the provincial tax on gasoline for municipally-owned vehicles, and a resolutions committee will work on correlating three resolutions asking for municipal share of gasoline tax in each municipality for road purposes.

The Oak Bay resolution asking power for contiguous municipalities to set up a joint committee or board to deal with and supervise operation of a transportation franchise, such as that now operating in Greater Victoria, was passed unanimously.

The gathering also went on record as petitioning the provincial government to set up a medical school immediately. Ald. H. M. Diggon suggested that it could well be located in Victoria.

Although Reeve Warren of Saanich and Mayor Loutet of North Vancouver strongly urged that compensation be given landowners prohibited from building because of regulations governing air strips, the convention passed a resolution asking that power be given municipalities to govern buildings in flights-ways of proposed airstrips.

The provincial government was also asked to enforce similar controls in unorganized territory near air ports. The power asked would give the municipal authorities the right to prohibit, restrict, or regulate construction of buildings or the planting of trees.

Reeve Warren did not feel that the right to go to court for compensation was sufficient protection for the land-owner near the proposed airstrip or on the flight-ways.

VICTORIA OPPOSES RESOLUTION

With the Victoria delegates opposing, the convention passed a resolution disapproving the provincial charge levied on municipalities under the Social Assistance Act.

This charge is 15 cents per capita for doing the investigations of social welfare recipients and old age pensioners. Ald. Margaret D. Christie, chairman of Victoria's city welfare committee, stressed that if the municipalities did not pay some part of welfare administration costs, they would lose all say in welfare policy.

She felt that social welfare work should be kept as closely allied to the people being served as possible, and if the senior governments took over the job entirely, much of the personal contact would be lost.

SCIATICA So Bad Couldn't Get About

"A few years ago, I had a very severe attack of Sciatica in my left leg," writes Mrs. T A. Beacon, 467 Vitre St. W., Montreal. "The leg and hip bothered me for 2 or 3 weeks. Then I was suddenly stricken with a pain as sharp as a knife driving through the flesh of my leg. The cords seemed to shorten up, so that I couldn't keep my leg straight, but could reach the floor only with the toes of my left foot. My leg was so stiff and I ached so much, I could hardly get about. When a friend recommended T-R-C's, I was eager to try them. I am glad I did, for T-R-C's brought me quick relief from pain and stiffness."

If you suffer from stabbing pains of Sciatica, get quick, safe relief with Templeton's T-R-C's. T-R-C's are used and endorsed by thousands for the fast, positive relief they bring to sufferers from Sciatica, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Rheumatic, Arthritic, Neuritic Pain and Stiffness. 50c, $1 at druggists. No Hope To Halt Rising Living Costs, U.S. Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Claude Pepper (Dem.-Fla.) said today there is no hope for any effort to check rising living costs and "the American people might just as well get ready for another recession."

He told reporters the Republican-controlled Congress is to blame.

But Senator Owen Brewster (Rep., Me.) said that so far as food prices are concerned, they are high because the Truman administration is shipping too much food to Europe and other areas.

Pepper scoffed at this, saying: "We've got to help those people more, not less. If we want to stop Communism, we've got to make the capitalism of Europe work."

Senator Homer Capehart (Rep., Ind) said he thinks high prices are linked to the U.S. foreign aid program, but the basic answer to rising living costs is increased production and "we ought to be working 48 hours a week instead of 40."

Pepper contended the Republicans led the fight which brought about removal of price controls last year. It was "too much to hope" that they would "reverse themselves" and do anything to haul down prices.

The Republican reply to this argument is that Congress only relaxed price controls and that the administration, which claimed the new set-up was unworkable, removed them.

"Save food to save America—that would be my slogan," Brewster declared.

Hunt For Cougar In Saanich

Saanich game warden Joseph Jones was out at daybreak this morning with his cougar hounds seeking to pick up the trail of a large cougar seen by a Cedar Hill Crossroad resident in his yard yesterday at the noon hour.

This is the first time one of the island mountain lions has been reported in the Greater Victoria area in many years.

Saanich police officer Robert Adrian was told by the resident, who lives near Mount Douglas, that the cat on leaving his yard was headed toward the mountain. Game Warden Jones had fine dogs for such a hunt.

Birthday Greetings For 2 Former Speakers

Birthday greetings will be extended here Friday to two former officials of the British Columbia government — R. H. Pooley, K.C., attorney-general during the Tolmie administration from 1928 to 1933, who will be 69, and W. A. Pauline, one-time agent-general in London and speaker of the legislature, who will be 86.

Mr. Pauline's political career began in the civic arena in 1908 when he served as alderman in Victoria. He was elected member of the B.C. Legislature for Saanich in 1916 and named speaker in 1922. Defeated at the polls in 1924, he was sent to London as agent-general, a post he held until 1930.

Mr. Pooley was a member for 22 years of the legislature representing the Esquimalt constituency from 1916 to 1933. He served as speaker of the House for several years.

Take Care Of Family Before University, Court Tells Vet

A young veteran was informed in County Court Monday that it was more important to support his wife and child than attend university.

"You can't go to university for four years and not support your wife and child," commented Judge H. H. Shandley in rendering judgment in favor of the wife who claimed an allowance under the Deserted Wives Maintenance Act.

"If you want to go to university you'll have to work to earn some extra money, but you just can't go on and take it out of your wife," the judge said.

He was ordered to pay $10 a month to his wife. She also receives $53.67 from the Department of Veterans Affairs.

'Larceny Inc.' Now Showing At Rio

Eddie Robinson's in business now. The luggage business!

What's more, Eddie's going straight! At least, that's his intention in Warner Bros.' comedy hit, "Larceny, Inc." which opens at the Rio Theatre today.

It seems that ex-con "Pressure" Maxwell (that's Eddie) and his sidekick, "Jug" Martin (Broderick Crawford), are in cahoots with Anthony Quinn (he hasn't been sprung yet) to rob a bank. As a cover-up, Eddie goes into the leather goods business only because his store is next to the bank. The connection? A tunnel, of course, between the two establishments.

YORK THEATRE

Jean Parker fans will want to catch the new romantic picture, "Rolling Home," now playing at the York Theatre. Jean cut short an extended and triumpant personal appearance tour to star in Affiliated Production's "Rolling Home," but immediately following the picture's completion she flew back east to do several plays for the "strawhat circuit."

Among those in which she signed to play the feminine lead are "Guest In The House," "Candlelight

ROYAL THEATRE

Now coming up to take their place among Hollywood's ever-growing list of personalities whose names celebrate nature's generosity (witness: "The Body," "The Voice," "The Nose," etc.) are the bevy of beauties producer George Jessel has rounded up for his technicolor production, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now." The lovelies—chosen from the top rank of nationally famous models — have been named the "Kiss Girls." Starring June Haver and Mark Stevens, the Twentieth Century-Fox film currently at the Royal Theatre.

'The Egg And I' Held At Plaza

Claudette Colbert takes no chances on complaints from captious customers. A scene for "The Egg and I," held over at the Plaza Theatre, required her to wrestle with Cleopatra, a 300-pound sow. The script said when Cleopatra stubbornly refused to get back into her pen she was to be pulled by the ears. "Are you sure this is all right with the S.P.C.A.?" she asked Director Chester Erskine. "I don't want to be accused of cruelty to animals."

CAPITOL THEATRE

Van Johnson played the part of a hero in real life as well as reel life during location scenes of his latest picture, "The Romance of Rosy Ridge," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. While appearing in outdoor sequences at Kennedy Meadows in the High Sierras, Van stopped a runaway horse and also prevented a fire that might have destroyed considerable M-G-M property. The horse, ridden by an extra on the set, reared and started to carry its rider on a mad dash across a stream. Johnson, standing nearby, leaped in to grab the reins and bit before the animal could get far. That same night, while preparing for bed in a mountain cabin the star seized an oil lamp which had caught fire and beat out the flames with a bearskin rug.

ATLAS THEATRE

Fred MacMurray puts his baton down but his voice is still raised in "Where Do We Go From Here?", the unusual new 20th Century-Fox technicolor Musical currently at the Atlas Theatre. MacMurray, trained for a musical career, once played with a jazz band, and in all his previous singing roles on the screen he has simply played Fred MacMurray, the orchestra leader, right out of real life.

Opinions Differ As Symphony Proposed For Schools Here

The merits of Greater Victoria students having the opportunity of actually witnessing the performance of a symphony orchestra produced a diversity of opinions at the meeting of the Greater Victoria School Board Monday evening.

The discussion started with the recommendation by Mrs. Margaret Beckwith, chairman of the board's education committee, who wanted to see the board take up the offer of the Victoria Symphony Society to present three concerts by the local symphony to high school students—one this fall and two next spring.

The society asked that the board share the costs of producing the concerts, and the committee recommended that the board provide $50 toward the expense of each concert and that the conductor be asked to present the symphony in a lecture-recital.

Austin Curtis, chairman of the board, thought payment of the $50 was a dangerous precedent to set.

Waldo Skillings also expressed concern over the proposed expenditure. Business men around town were complaining about the rising costs of education here, he said, and this would be just one added burden.

He also recommended that if the concerts were to be given, they be given in the evening and not at the suggested time of 11 to 12 in the morning, as this would upset the high schools' schedules. He believed students already showed a lack of interest in the present school orchestra.

Inspector John Gough and Mrs. Beckwith argued in favor of giving students an opportunity of actually seeing a symphony orchestra perform.

"We need something like this to keep our Victoria symphony going and our children blowing trumpets instead of blowing safes," Mrs. Beckwith stated.

The matter ended, with some trustees favoring the concerts, even if it did cost money and took up some school time which they felt would be valuably spent, and some in favor, but only if presented at night and at no cost to the school board, when Inspector Gough was appointed to inquire further into the matter to see if some more favorable arrangement could be made.

Classrooms Added To Seven Schools

Addition of classrooms at seven schools in the Greater Victoria school district were reported to the Greater Victoria School Board Monday evening by M. P. Paine, chairman of the building and grounds committee.

The following additional classrooms have been provided: Mackenzie Avenue, one army hut; Tillicum, two classrooms in the auditorium; Tolmie, one classroom in the annex; Spring Ridge, one additional classroom; Willows, one classroom in the annex; Cloverdale, one classroom in the auditorium, and Lampson Street, two classrooms in the annex.

Mr. Paine also reported on general repairs made throughout all the schools.

Included in the tentative program list were: completion of the chemistry and biology buildings at Victoria College, setting up a dental clinic at Lampson Street School, and other general repairs to all schools.

Establish School At Gordon Head

On the recommendation of the education committee, Greater Victoria School Board Monday evening approved establishment of a one-room school for Grades 1 to 6 at the Gordon Head Camp.

There are now sufficient children at the camp to warrant the school, the committee reported, and it was recommended that this be done as soon as a teacher is available. It was also added that if the school population at the camp increases as is expected, there will probably be a two or three-room school there by early next year.

The board also approved the committee's recommendation that pupils in Grades 7 and 8 of the Gordon Head Camp attend Gordon Head School for the present term, or until such time as other arrangements can be made.

College Gets Field

Reservation of 10 acres of the property under purchase in the vicinity of Victoria College to be developed as playing fields for the use of the college was approved at a meeting of the Greater Victoria School Board Wednesday evening.

The board also approved the following recommendations:

That the dressmaking course carried on at the Market Building Centre be continued along the lines previously laid down, irrespective of whether or not the additional vocational grant is paid by, or through, the provincial government.

It was suggested that a letter be forwarded to the Education Minister inquiring as to why the grant was being withheld, as the course was set up at the request of the government.

That the auto-engineering course, as outlined by the B.C. Electric Railway Co., be conducted as a night school course.

That the night school courses at Mount View High School Centre be held on Friday evenings on a trial basis in order to coincide with the activities of the Saanich Suburban Community Centre.

Yankees Capture 15th Flag In 27 Campaigns

New York Yankees took a bow today for winning their 15th flag in the last 27 years, a feat accomplished by no other team. Indications are that the new American League champions shortly will have a National League partner to help share the pennant celebrations, Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Yankees clinched their championship yesterday without lifting a bat when Chicago White Sox defeated Boston Red Sox 6 to 3 in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Dodgers' clinching date should come before the end of the week. Leading the fast-fading St. Louis Cardinals by 7½ games, the Brooks need only any combination of six victories or Redbirds defeats.

The Yankees were sitting in the clubhouse when they heard the news that they had backed in through the Red Sox' loss. Rain postponed their game against St. Louis Browns.

President Larry Macphail and co-owner Del Webb were the first to congratulate the players and manager Bucky Harris, who in his first year at the helm, directed the club to a pennant. It was the second time Harris had won a pennant in his first year of managing a club. He directed Washington Senators as the "boy wonder" of 1924.

HOME RUN DECIDES

After losing the opener, the Red Sox came back to trip the White Sox, 7 to 5, in the second game of the doubleheader. Dom DiMaggio's two-run homer in the seventh proved the deciding blow.

Detroit Tigers increased their second-place lead over the Red Sox to a full game when they whipped the Senators, 7 to 2, in a night game in Washington. It was the sixth straight loss for the Senators.

The Cards lost another half-game to the Dodgers when they were beaten for the second straight time by New York Giants in St. Louis, 10 to 5. Walker Cooper hit his 32nd homer for the Giants.

Lefty Bob Chipman bested Johnny Sain in a hurling duel as Chicago Cubs nipped the Boston Braves, 3 to 2. Sain was bidding for his 20th victory of the year.

With Hank Greenberg hitting his 25th home run, Pittsburgh Pirates rapped Philadelphia Phils, 12 to 2, to move out of the National League cellar. The Phils moved in.

George Metkovich's triple and Lou Boudreau's single gave Bob Lemon and Cleveland Indians an 11-inning, 2 to 1, victory over the Athletics in a night game in Philadelphia.

The Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds were idle.

By PETE SALLAWAY

A VICTORIA TEAM has come up with another first. Manager Jim Lackie's Esquimalt softballers gained the signal honor of being the first team in British Columbia to lift the western Canada championship. Definite underdogs to Saskatoon the local squad polished off the prairie winners in four games and looked much the better outfit all the way. If the breaks had gone their way the Lackie crew might easily have swept the play-off three straight. Esquimalt were full value for their win and are to be congratulated on bringing another championship to the city.

WHEN ONE REMEMBERS the bitter struggle Esquimalt went through to capture the island crown from Ladysmith it is safe to say that the two top ranking clubs in the west are located within a few miles of each other. The final game with Saskatoon was a personal victory for pitcher Ken Gunter. Getting his chance in the play-offs when Ralph Bonner, regular Esquimalt hurler turned up missing, Gunter proved himself by checking in with two sterling exhibitions. After dropping a tough 10-inning engagement he came right back to stop the invaders. In handing out bouquets one cannot pass up George Kinch, the stylish south-paw twirler, on the mound for Esquimalt's other two victories, and Dusty Mair, relief outfielder, whose big bat played an important part in the final victory. With the title safely tucked away Esquimalt players will turn to winter sports activities but it is hoped the city of Victoria will pay tribute to the new champions with some form of presentation.

AT LONG LAST directors of the Western International Baseball League have smartened up and next season will stage a post-season playoff. For two years the clubs have passed up a profitable venture for what reason I don't know. No doubt the let-down finish of the schedule this season, with Vancouver Capilanos backing into the pennant when final games throughout the circuit were rained out, influenced the league heads in their decision to stage a post-season series come 1948. I realize there will be a certain amount of gambling with the weather at such a late date but the crowds the games will draw more than offsets such a danger.

WHEN A GOLFER can play over a strange course and check in with a three-under par 67 as Bobby Locke did at Colwood Sunday there is no doubt as to his greatness. The South African wizard lived up to all advance notices and ably demonstrated just why he is the leading money winner on the United States gold trail this year. Majority of Victorians were impressed most by Locke's ability to lay his second shots dead and his sensational putting. Watching Locke drop putts with a dirty old goose necked, wooden shaft club one was reminded of the great feats of Bobby Jones with his "Calamity Jane." With a little luck on a couple of his long putts Locke could easily have wound up with a 65 and it would have been deserving.

Nine Nominated For Soccer Commission

Nine men have been nominated for the four positions on the Victoria and District Soccer Commission for the 1947-48 season and two have been named for the position of secretary held last season by Carle Rodway. Election of officers to these positions will be held this week-end.

Those nominated to the commission include C. G. Callin, Ralph Cosier, Reg. A. Clarke, Louis DeCosta, Hubert Cumberbirch, Magistrate H. C. Hall, James Hall, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter and Bob Whyte.

Ernie Costain and Art Searle have been nominated for secretary.

Five teams have entered the senior circuit this season. They include: Victoria West, Canadian Legion, Oak Bay, Saanich Thistles and Esquimalt. It was also announced that Toppers may apply for re-entry into the loop.

The opening game of the Pacific Coast League will take place on Sept. 27 with Nanaimo United supplying the opposition for Roy Barnes' Victoria United.

UNITED PRACTICES

Barnes announced last night that many players have been turning out to United practice sessions during the past few weeks, the latest addition being George Forbes, a newcomer from Scotland. Forbes has shown considerable promise on the forward line and may come up with a regular position on the team.

Red McMillan and Tommy Druce, two of last year's regulars, have reported for training now that their box lacrosse chores have ended.

Others attending practice sessions include Lou Heppenstall, Nip Sage, Andy Anderson, Earl Barnswell, Noel Morgan, Ab Travis, Joe Travis, Gordon Perkins, Alan Reside, Joe Robbins, Ken Druce and Bobby Moss.

Further workouts for the squad will be held at Macdonald Park tonight and Thursday at 7 and on Sunday at 10.

Jimmy Carmichael has been appointed club trainer.

Following is the first half schedule with home team named first:

Oakland Registers Win Over Portland

With the hectic Coast League baseball race heading into its final fortnight, Oakland tightened matters up another notch last night by defeating Portland, 7 to 1, in the first of a marathon, 11-game series.

With Oakland and Portland cutting each other's throats for the next 10 games, their chances of squeezing into the throne room appeared slight. Especially, with San Francisco and Los Angeles playing all their remaining games with seventh-place Sacramento and last-place San Diego.

Breaking it down, San Francisco has eight left with the Sacs this week and a final seven at San Diego next week. The Angels play seven against the Padres, then wind up with seven against the Solons.

After belaboring each other, Portland and Oakland wind up in seven-game series with Hollywood and Seattle, respectively.

Winnipeg Scottish Tie Canadian Soccer Playoff

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Scottish, midwest champions, evened the best-of-three Dominion soccer semifinal series when they defeated the eastern titlists, Montreal Carsteel, 2 to 0 before a crowd of 5,000 here Monday night. Both goals came in the second half.

Montreal won the first game here Saturday, 4 to 3. Third game will be played here tonight and the winners will move in the Dominion final against Vancouver St. Andrews.

The younger Scottish team were crowding Carsteel and as a result their passing plays, prominent in their victory in the Saturday game, never got seriously organized.

Johnny Getty, Scottish centre forward, and Bill Glencross, inside right, were the scorers.

Montreal were forced to play with 10 men for the last 10 minutes of the first half and all of the second when Charlie Warner, their centre half, was ordered off the field after arguing with referee Percy Gillatt.

MISS PENALTY

Scottish were awarded a penalty with 35 minutes of the first half gone, when Warner interfered with Getty inside the 18-yard line. During the course of the ensuing argument Warner was ordered off. From the spot kick Midge Pennington, Scottish inside left, drove it for the right hand corner but the veteran Gordon punched the ball clear.

Winnipegs first goal came at the eight-minute mark of the second half when Scottish were awarded a free kick. The ball landed near the goalmouth and from a maze of players Getty headed it past Gordon.

Three minutes later, Glencross made it 2 to 0. On a Scottish offensive the play went down the right side and Stan Nickarz, Winnipeg right winger, slipped the ball across and the inside right drove in a low shot that gave Gordon no chance.

Louis Agrees To Risk His Title Against Walcott

NEW YORK (AP)—A prolonged search having failed to turn up anything akin to a logical heavyweight title contender, Joe Louis has decided to make his next scrap worth while.

Joe went after golf seriously this summer, figuring it was up to the boxing moguls to try to find a ring opponent that would at least make it interesting. He agreed to an appearance against Jersey Joe Walcott but stipulated that the championship crown would have to be on the shelf.

Then yesterday the Bomber changed his mind and agreed to make the Walcott party an honest-to-goodness, 15-round affair with the championship at stake. They had originally been scheduled for a so-called non-title contest of 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

Louis, never too warm about the non-title angle, readily accepted the suggestion of Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, to lengthen the bout to the 15-round championship route. The date was set back three weeks to Dec. 5.

Eagan, in suggesting the change from a non-title bout, pointed out that a defeat for the champion in such a bout would cause some controversy and that Walcott certainly would be recognized as champion if he should win by a knockout.

Mimico Advances In Eastern Boxla

TORONTO (CP) — Mimico Mountaineers broke loose with a smashing 10-goal drive in the last two periods at Mimico last night to whip St. Catharines Athletics, 15 to 7, and eliminate last year's Mann Cup champs from the Dominion lacrosse playoffs. Some 3,300 fans cheered the Mounties as they chalked up their fourth straight victory in the best-of-seven Ontario Lacrosse Association senior finals.

Mimico now plays Cornwall in a best-of-three series for the eastern Canada title.

Eastern Gridiron Clubs Safe From Revenue Officials

OTTAWA (CP) — The Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and the Ontario Rugby Football Union are not liable for the 20 per cent tax on their gate receipts, Dave Sim, deputy minister of National Revenue, told the Canadian Press today.

"Both these leagues are recognized by the Canadian Rugby Union and therefore are not liable for the tax," he said.

National revenue officials had been making inquiries into their status, he said.

It was learned that as long as the Canadian Rugby Union recognized the amateur status of the I.R.F.U. and the O.R.F.U. the status would not be questioned by the government.

When it was disclosed that the status of the leagues was being investigated, officials of both Ottawa teams denied that the teams were making money.

In Toronto, Dr. Malcolm Kinsella, executive member of the Dominion championship Toronto Argonauts, said the whole I.R.F.U. would fold up if the tax was imposed.

FORECAST COLLAPSE

TORONTO (CP) — Football officialdom breathed easier today when word reached camps of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and the Ontario Rugby Football Union that their organizations were not liable for a 20 per cent federal tax on gate receipts.

Gridiron boses generally predicted an unfavorable decision would topple their house of high-priced cards as national revenue officials checked to see just how professional "amateur" football is in eastern Canada.

But frowns rapidly turned to smiles when Dave Sim, deputy minister of National Revenue, announced in Ottawa today that "both these leagues are recognized by the Canadian Rugby Union and therefore are not liable for the tax." Before the announcement club heads saw nothing but a collapse of the fall pastime, if the tax went into effect.

Vancouver Tennis Players Win Match

Victoria members of the B.C. Electric Tennis Club were defeated by a team of players from the company's club in Vancouver in an interclub match played on the Bowker Avenue courts here over the week-end. Scores were 22 to 10 in favor of the visitors. Lunch and tea were served to the players in the clubhouse and the day's matches were concluded with a dinner at the Chez Marcel where members of the Victoria Club entertained the visitors.

A feature of the evening's program was the presentation of an honorary life membership in the Victoria Club to Charles T. Teasdale, who retired as president this year after 12 years in office. The presentation was made by Ralph B. Mathews, executive assistant to the vice-president of the company.

Basketballers Fail To Elect Executive At Annual Meeting

Despite the fact that team representatives of the Victoria and District Basketball Association were warned in advance that the present executive, with the exception of Cece Walton, treasurer, would not stand for re-election for the coming season, the delegates present at last night's meeting failed to elect a new slate of officers.

Latest move to find suitable and interested parties to handle the executive positions came in a motion from Wally Yeamans that a committee, made up of representatives from each division and appointed by the present executive, be formed to select a new slate of officers for the coming season. The election of the officers named by the committee would be subject to the approval of the next general meeting, Sept. 29 at 8.

Entries in all divisions of the league will also close on that date.

Treasurer Cece Walton reviewed the league financial situation for the benefit of delegates who missed the spring meeting of the association. Walton also advised the meeting that the provincial body was entertaining a motion prohibiting a repeat of the Ron Weber case of last season. A ballot is being conducted by mail, he said.

Other items of business discussed included the disbursement of profits from senior A gates and the question of suitable remuneration for the league secretary.

Western All-Stars Win At Spokane

SPOKANE (AP)—Vancouver's Jim Hedgecock Monday night pitched and batted the western all-stars of the Western International League to a 7 to 5 decision in 11 innings over the eastern all-stars before a slim crowd.

Hedgecock gave up 10 hits and hit two doubles, one of which scored two runs in the final inning.

Short score:	R.	H.	E.
West	7	13	3
East	5	10	6

Batteries — Hedgecock and Kuper; Costello, Gunnarson (6) and Constantino.

B.C. Junior Boxla Team Plays Winnipeg

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 15-man British Columbia junior lacrosse team will leave here Saturday for the western Canada box lacrosse junior championship finals opening in Winnipeg one week from today.

Selection of the all-star contingent was announced here last night by officials of the B.C. Amateur Lacrosse Association. It includes nine members of the Vancouver Burrards, holders of the B.C. junior crown.

The club will meet Winnipeg Sept. 23 and 24 in a two-game, total-point series for the western title.

Three Victoria Women Qualify In Canadian Golf

TORONTO (CP)—Perfect par figures over the tough Toronto Club course Monday gave Marjorie Row of the Essex Golf and Country Club, near Windsor, Ont., medal honors in the qualifying round of the Canadian women's open championship.

Miss Row, who rates as a leading contender for this first renewal of the Canadian title test since 1938, took honors with a sparkling round of 39-39—78.

Anne Sharp, Welland, Ont., who took medal honors for a pair of 83's in the interprovincial team match last Saturday, failed to qualify. She posted a 48-44—92, just one over the 91 required for the championship match play.

Trailing medalist Row by three strokes were Mrs. Eddie Bush, Detroit, and Mrs. Cecil Gooderham, Toronto. Mrs. Bush carded 41-40 for her 81, while Mrs. Gooderham posted 39-42.

Ada Mackenzie of the Toronto Ladies Club, oft times winner of the crown, qualified handily with 84, while defending champion Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of the Toronto Club carded 85.

Other qualifying round scores included: Barbara M. Davies, Vancouver, 44-40—84; Mrs. Hugh O'Callaghan, Vancouver, 44-39—83; Mrs. J. H. Todd, Victoria, 47-41—88; Mrs. Marjorie Todd-Finney, Victoria, 44-46—90; Miss P. Arnold, Calgary, 44-49—93; Mrs. E. E. Jackson, Victoria, 45-43—88; and Elizabeth Clare Martin, Vancouver, 47-44—91.

Esquimalt Capture Calvert Cup Final

Esquimalt Meat Market, western Canada softball champions, showed all of their vaunted power last night as they took Dominion Meat Market apart in the final game of the Calvert Cup knockout series, whipping the senior B squad, 14 to 0, behind the one-hit pitching of George Kinch.

Kinch gave up his lone blow in the first frame and from then on hurled near-perfect ball. Meanwhile his mates were pounding the ball to all corners of the lot.

Plucky Boss, unable to keep up with pacemakers in first quarter, moved up steadily going down far side, challenged for lead on far turn and getting to top at head of stretch drew out to easy win. Jazz Society broke fast, set pace to final eighth then weakened and pulled up lame. Lord Broxa, in contention all the way, was unable to get to top. Little Pekoe showed early speed. Maclyn was shut off soon after break when Little Pekoe swung to inside, losing all chance. Faster Marcus tried to move up on rail entering back stretch, but had to take up when shut off by Lord Broxa and was pulled up in stretch when he went lame.

Favorites Win Six Races At Willows

Favorites and second choices held forth at the Willows Monday with the result double figures were posted for only one winner on the seven-race card. Only outsider to crack down under the wire came in the feature race, the Saanich Handicap over six furlongs and 30 yards, when Arkadia Vilches, one of the most consistent long shot riders on B.C. tracks this season, piloted Pondo Py to a one-length victory.

Pondon Py returned a healthy $26.75 to win, $8.65 to place and $2.90 to show. Polly Wales and Gala Hat, co-favorite entry with Franklin K., engaged in a thrilling duel until the final quarter when Pondo Py closed fast to take the major portion of the purse. Polly Wales held on to finish second with Gala Hat third.

Golden Belt, a 10-year-old campaigner was the winner of the opening heat as the favored Sea Fiddler dropped back to finish second after setting the early pace. Plucky Boss was much the best in the second, taking command entering the stretch for a three-lengths victory. The favorite, Faster Marcus, pulled up lame entering the stretch and had to be trucked back to the stables.

Coming from well back Sir Glaxton just managed to get up and win the third in a photo finish with Cadet Cliff and Lady Arden, Away Nevada, one of the few grey thoroughbreds campaigning at the Willows, continued his good form on Vancouver tracks, to cop the fourth, while Lahadion was much the best to take the fifth going away.

Another veteran runner, 10-year-old Maid of Broxa, moved up steadily to take over in the final drive and win the seventh by two lengths over Avondale King with Bandra in the third slot. The quinella paid $26.75 with the daily doubble returning a modest $16.35.

Vilches was the top rider of the afternoon with a pair of winners. However, Emil Sporri continued to set the pace for the meeting with 32 points with Billy Robertson second with 24.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS BEHIND THE MEAT STRIKE?

A strike called by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) against six meat packing plants of the Swift Canadian Co. Limited has been in progress since August 27.

We regret that as a result of the strike called by the Union it has been impossible for the Swift Canadian Co. to serve the livestock producers, farmers and consumers of Canada or to fulfill our commitments for overseas shipment of meat to those in dire need of it. This is particularly regrettable since we are now entering the season of increased cattle marketing and beef production.

This strike, called by the U.P.W.A (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), has set up an arbitrary and unnecessary dam against the orderly flow of livestock and meat.

Recently, in published statements, the union has made false accusations against the company. The charges by union officers stated specifically that this company "is attempting to form an insidious conspiracy for the purpose of destroying the union, depriving farmers of markets for their supplies, and depriving the people of Canada and Britain of much needed meat."

Such charges are false and evidently are intended to confuse the public as to the real reasons for the strike.

We think the public is entitled to know the facts:

1. Swift Canadian Co. began negotiations with the U.P.W.O.-C.I.O. on July 23 to work out terms of a new agreement with the union by an orderly process of collective bargaining covering six meat packing plants. Negotiations continued until August 2 when meetings were adjourned AT THE REQUEST OF THE UNION.

2. The old agreement had expired at midnight August 1, but it provided that its terms and conditions should continue in effect until a new agreement was reached or until negotiations were broken off. The union admits that negotiations have never broken off. At the time meetings were adjourned, the company desired to continue further discussions and urged the union to do so.

3. Almost immediately groups of employees in three of our plants began a deliberate slowdown which drastically curtailed production. The company on several occasions prior to the strike notified Mr. Fred Dowling, Canadian director of the U.P.W.A., and the local officers of the union at the plants involved, of the existence of the slowdown.

4. The slowdown continued and on August 26 those who were engaging in the slowdown were told not to come back to work until they were willing to resume work at the same rate they were producing prior to the time of the slowdown.

5. The union immediately called a strike in all six meat packing plants, apparently in sympathy with those employees who were not willing to give a full day's work for a full day's pay.

6. Negotiations were resumed on August 28, even in the face of the strike, and are now in progress.

The Swift Canadian Co. has long recognized collective bargaining as a right of employees, and is ready at all times to bargain with the unions chosen by our employees to represent them. It is unfortunate that union has chosen to strike in preference to reaching an agreement through peaceful negotiations. No one can win such a strike, and on the contrary, a strike inevitably results in losses to consumers, producers, employees, and to the company. We will continue to bargain in good faith until we arrive at an agreement that will be equitable to all.

Says U.S. Working Towards New War

ROME (AP) — The United States is accused by Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader, of "working eagerly to prepare a new war."

Togliatti also criticized President Truman and the Pope in speeches in Florence and in Monza on the eve of the formal ratification of the Italian peace treaty Monday. The coming into force of the treaty means U.S. and British occupation troops will be out of the country within 90 days.

The Communist leader declared the Pope maintained an ambiguous attitude, "praying for peace on one hand and, on the other, approving a bellicose discourse of the President of the United States."

(President Truman said in a letter to the Pope made public Aug. 28 that the world's moral forces must unite against those who "seek to destroy them." The Pope replied that peace was jeopardized by powers which would reduce men to serfdom.)

New strains of safflower developed in the United States yield as high as 34 per cent oil, a satisfactory substitute for linseed as a drying oil in paints; safflower grows at rather high elevations and requires little rain.

Of the 387 total this year, 242 were in the first year and 145 in the second. In the first year 153 of the total registrations were by men and 89 by women. In the second year, 91 were by men and 54 by women.

The college also reported there has been a change in regulations covering registrations. Up to Saturday no one who had more than three units of failure outstanding in their first year was allowed to re-register in either the college or University of B.C. However, under the new regulations, such students are now allowed to re-register.

Suggest Insurance Firms Pay Fire Department Maintenance

Special to the Times

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Fire insurance companies should pay for the maintenance of fire departments in municipalities, according to Hon. R. C. MacDonald, minister of municipal affairs. This suggestion, advanced at the opening session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, brought cheers from the 250 delegates.

Mr. MacDonald said the citizens were paying double for fire protection in premiums to the companies and in taxes to maintain the fire departments. He strongly urged the municipalities to take up the matter instead of taxing their citizens to protect the investment of the fire insurance companies.

PROMISED LEGISLATION

The promise that legislation will be passed at the next session of the Legislature to make it legal for the provincial government to pay taxes on provincial property within municipalites used for commercial purposes was made by Mr. MacDonald.

This was one of the recommendations of the Goldenberg report, which Mr. MacDonald said had been overlooked during the last session.

He also promised that by the next session facts and figures would be available on how much will be spent in each municipality on the arterial roads to be taken over by the province. The matter is under investigation now, he said.

Mr. MacDonald gave assurance that this year the $2,500,000 from the federal government for unemployment relief expenditure would be distributed among the municipalities by the provincial finance department. During the year he said $11,216,000 is being given the municipalties in grants, with $7,395,000 in direct grants for schools and from motor vehicle licenses.

He was critical of municipalities who, while asking for governments to pay tax on government property were prepared to enter into agreements with Wartime Housing Ltd. to give low fixed taxes on the veterans houses, after donating lots.

He said it was not in municipalities interest to do so, and consequently he had put a stop to such agreements.

Mr. MacDonald also suggested that in making agreements with civic employees for wage increases that no consideration be given to such demands once the mill rate had been set. He referred obliquely to Victoria's recent agreement with civic employees as the way it should be done.

Board Considers Further Negotiation

Request of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (A.F.L.) for further negotiations with the B.C. Power Commission is expected to be dealt with by the commission.

The request was made, which received an overwhelming endorsement of strike action in the first government-supervised strike vote conducted under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15.

A strike of the 100 workers involved would eventually bring a blackout of up-island centres such as Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Ladysmith, Duncan, Parksville and Qualicum.

In Tub When Told Of Basement Fire

A man who was having a bath in his newly-built city home got a rather rude shock when Sgt. Thomas Stevenson's summons drew him from the tub to notify him that his basement was on fire.

Sgt. Stevenson and Detective Louis Callan of the city police were out on a tour looking for a reported missing girl — who eventually turned up at home—when the sergeant saw the flames in the basement. First thought was that the furnace door was left open, but then the officer thought it rather irregular to have a furnace going on such a warm day. Investigating further he discovered rubbish in the basement on fire and immediately got the unsuspecting owner out of his tub. The fire was put out.

Last Survivor Of Indian Tribe Dies, Said To Be 110

Mrs. Mary Henry, believed to be the last survivor of the Quaquichan tribe, died at the reported age of 110 years Saturday at the Indian reservation at Cole Bay, Saanich Inlet.

Her family says Mrs. Henry was born before the city of Victoria was in existence and in the year Queen Victoria ascended the throne. She often told her family that she remembered when there was no white people on Vancouver Island, and she recalled the days when Indians made long voyages in dugout canoes. She could not speak English.

According to A. E. Pickford, provincial museum anthropologist, there is no official record of the existence of the Quaquichan tribe, but he believes that such a tribe did exist on the island at the time.

Mrs. Henry is survived by two sons, a daughter, and 21 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mill Bay.

B.C. Investigator To Report This Week

What action the provincia government's labor department should take in the strike of 1,000 furniture workers in plants in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster is expected to be suggested today or Wednesday by George Bruce, member of the department staff who is investigating the dispute for the government.

Furniture workers left their jobs in a strike called by the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.). Union officials frankly admitted that a vote conducted by the union on whether or not employees wished to strike had not been supervised by the government.

Penalties are provided in British Columbia's Industrial Coalition and Arbitration Act, which became law last May 15, for striking without having first exhausted conciliation and voted in a government-supervised poll on strike action.

Involved in the dispute here are 30 employees of the Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co., 878 Viewfield Road.

Floods In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Hundreds of families were evacuated from their homes in various sections of Honshu Island today as floods from torrential rains preceded a typhoon rushing toward Japan from the Pacific. No casualties were reported.

More Doukhobors Arrive At New Settlement At Hilliers

Seeking new homes to carry on their "way of life, toil and peace," the vanguard of Doukhobors from settlements in the strife-torn Kootenay valley now are enroute to the spiritual community of Christ Settlement at Hilliers near Parksville, it was learned today.

At least 10 more Doukhobors are coming from the interior to join Michael (Archangel) Verigin and his followers in the new Hilliers settlement, and it has been indicated that as many as 2,000 may follow with plans to take up additional land in the community.

Stan Johnson, president of the Parksville Board of Trade, said residents were not much concerned with ten additional members settling in the district, but are very much against any greater number coming to Hilliers.

"So far the present community has been very friendly and neighborly," he said, "but we are afraid of two opposite sects settling in the district which might lead to a recurrence of the war now taking place in the Kootenay valley."

Protests against settlement of the Doukhobors in the district had been made, he said, but there had been no official action to halt the coming of additional members of the religious sect.

He said the settlement of additional Doukhobors in the district would seriously affect the economy of the district, especially with regard to the real estate.

9 DIE IN CRASH

For the one we loved so well.

—"MY BOS'N PALS"—

"C'MON GIRLS . . . you won't need a coat, lets all go for a ride in the boat." They let out a warhoon as they always do, when the Capt. says this to his crew. "I'll get the oars." Trudie cried, then they both played horsie & rode 'em astride. As down to the float they rushed head-long with Penny the pup wagging along. "HEY . . . wait for me . . . half-a-mo." "Daddy.—can I be the first to row?" "O.K. . . . you can take the first tack, and U Trudie, can try & row back."

AN OPPORTUNITY to get 2 big matching Axminster (seamless rugs) both 16'-6" by 12'. They are in a block conventional pattern . . . good English rugs, $125 each . . . lovely if you have 2 biz rooms to furnish.

SO . . . off we went, the beach to plough with Penny the look-out in the bow. We hit the sand, all jumped ashore, the beach was covered with bark rubbe. "C'mon," I sed, "don't B so slow, let's stow away this lovely cargo." Now to get to work each little dame, I've always got, to think up a game. And so to start this little prank, "LOOK," I sed, "let's get that plank." And so it was placed against the bow, we've a saw-offed front on our flat scow.

FLAT . . . when opened . . . these davenports (wine or green homespun) open up perfectly flat . . . no deep ridge to fight against all nite . . . we can still do for $59.

"NOW," I sed, "I'll park in the stern, like all good stevedores U gotta learn. How they stow lumber in a ship, so it won't move & make the boat tip. Let's do now . . . Gee . . . that's a big hunk, that's it Trudie . . . lei 'er plunk." So back & forth my loaders went, twice they laffed off a near-accident. As slowly our freighter began to fill, our little white flattie,—turned mercantile.

NO COUNTING SHEEP if U wake up on this MATTRESS . . . and we have the matching box spring to show your eyes, so come, visit us . . . and get mattress-wise.

PENNY . . . too . . . caught onto the game, as back & fro with bark he came. Trudie ran up, "WHAT'S THIS, Dad," entwined with sea-weed, it was clad, "THAT," I sed, is a bosn's chair, to paint things high up in the air. Like a funnel or a mast," she locked at me sorta flabbergast. As our cargo now, was stowed away, "c'mon on," I sed, "let's bos'n play." So to a branch of the old maple tree, I swung them out, over the sea. And as they swung this chair Trudie found, spun itself around & around. "OOSH," Daddy, "this sure is fun, I'm gonna grow up and B a bos'n."

"p-s-s-s-t . . . I got mine at HUMBERS" . . . and YOU too can get YOUR bedroom suite from us and U need give us only $165 and choose from the walnut or the blonde. This is the suite with the big tilt plate mirror.

WE FINALLY rode back & ditched the bark, we were wobbly below the watermark. Now in the winter to come, I'll gaze in the fire, our slow-burning fuel I'll greatly admire. I'll remember that Sunday we had such fun, over on the beach in the Indian-sun. I'll remember that chair, with it's rope & splice, & Penny-Too will know, his bark, WARMS US TWICE.

British-Austrian State Of War Ends

VIENNA (Reuter)—The technical state of war between Austria and Britain was officially ended today when Sir Henry Mack, British political representative in Austria, called on Chancellor Leopold Figl and informed him of the resumption of full diplomatic relations between the two countries, Austrian sources said.

An anamoly in international relations has thus been revoved, since Britain was the only one of the Big Four powers which presumed a state of war to exist with the Austrian government. The others did not recognize the Anschluss of 1938 by which Germany took over Austria.

Recruit Africans

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuter) — Recruiting started today for 20,000 African workers to help build the British army's huge new Middle East store depots at MacKinnon Road, on the main road and railway route to Nairobi. These stores are expected to house millions of dollars' worth of army equipment evacuated from Egypt and India.

Communists Score British Program To Speed Exports

LONDON (Reuter) — Britain's new "one-third more for export" plan to beat the dollar famine crisis was attacked by British Communists today in a statement by the party's executive committee.

Declaring the export speech of the President of the Board of Trade Sir Stafford Cripps last Friday "a complete surrender" to demands of the Federation of British Industries and the National Union of Manufacturers, the statement said no concrete proposals were put forward for cutting overseas expenditures or the armed forces.

The program meant the abandonment of the aims for which the Labor government was elected.

"It is a program of big business, or hard-faced capitalist reaction, which turns its sharp edge against the living standards and social needs of the people, and against the requirements of productive industrial development, while making no proposals for limiting profits or cutting into the luxury incomes and fortunes of the rich," the statement said.

The Labor movement was called on to demand a complete change in the character of the government and its policy.

Poles Told Russia Will Fight U.S.

DEGGENDORF, Germany (AP)—A bullet-scarred guerrilla leader said today agents of the Communist political police openly were exhorting the Polish people to prepare for a Russian war against the United States.

The 26-year-old guerrilla captain, who gave his name as Walko Jurij, is one of 40 armed Ukrainians who entered the United States occupation zone of Germany. The Ukrainians, who describe themselves as fugitives from Communism, were disarmed and interned here by United States constabulary groups.

"We want to continue our fight against Communism," Jurij said in an interview in the guarded prison barracks. "We know America is going to have to fight Russia sooner or later and we want to help."

Jurij said that if he and his men were ordered back to Poland "we will commit suicide."

Frost Touches Large Areas On Prairies

WINNNIPEG (CP) — Jack Frost covered a lot of ground on the prairies Monday night, 23 Dominion weather bureau points reporting frost and more reporting near-frost conditions.

Coldest spot was at Fairview, Alta., where the mercury fell to 25 degrees. Generally, however, Alberta fared more warmly, only three other stations reporting temperatures of 32 degrees or less. They were McMurray, Grande Prairie and Stettler.

Elbow was low point in Saskatchewan with 30, while a number of other districts touched the 32-degree mark. Regina escaped the frost, the temperature there staying around 42.

Minnedosa registered 3 degrees of frost overnight to be low spot in Manitoba. Thirties, 31's and 32's were common in other parts.

London Lacks Milk

LONDON (Reuter) — Britain's recent drought has caused such a shortage of milk that after today thousands of Londoners will have their supplies cut for at least a month. Children and priority consumers, such as invalids, will not be affected, but non-priority adults will be reduced from two pints a week to 1 1-2.

Report 2,280 Dead, Missing As Floods Cover Japan Plain

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of Japanese worked tonight erecting temporary dikes in an effort to stem floodwaters 20 miles north of Tokyo as unofficial estimates placed the number of dead and missing at 2,280.

Earlier incomplete United States Military Government reports had said the floodwaters, rising on the broad plain north of Tokyo in the wake of a typhoon, left nearly 1,700 Japanese dead or missing and damaged some 100,000 houses.

Newspapers said residents of Kasukabe were working feverishly on temporary dikes against advancing waters of two rivers which had ripped through their banks. Failure to halt the flood at Kasukabe would expose the eastern section of Tokyo to the onrush of water, described as three feet high in some places.

Storm damage was reported from 15 prefectures stretching over 500 miles across two-thirds of Honshu Island. Damage to homes, crops, bridges, railroads and highways was expected to total several hundred million yen (at the official rate 50 yen equal $1). Two medium-sized towns were wiped out and many villages flooded as the Tone and Arakawa rivers spilled out onto the flatlands.

Post Storm Warning On Atlantic Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Northeast storm warnings were ordered raised from West Palm Beach, Fla., to Cape Hatteras, N.C., today as a massive tropical hurricane churned the sea about 250 miles east of West Palm Beach.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in a 10.15 a.m. advisory message, said the vast storm with winds of more than 140 miles an hour had remained nearly at a standstill during the night with the centre now near latitude 26.7 north longtitude 76.2 west.

"It is apparently moving northwestward in a direction which may indicate that it is changing its course," the advisory stated.

The area of storm winds has expanded and it now covers an area of about 400 miles in diameter.

The Weather Bureau said the intensity remained "very severe."

Rails Provide Chief Resistance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned in a sluggish performance Monday as commodities resumed their upward spurt. Light selling in the fourth hour wiped out some of the narrow gains achieved by a few favorites. Several rails provided the principal resistance to further declines.

Canadian issues today were mixed. McIntyre and Hiram Walker each gained ¼ while Dome Mines was up ⅛. Distillers Seagrams was down ⅜ and Canadian Pacific dropped ⅛.

Dow Jones closing averages:

30 industrials 175.30, off 0.62
20 rails 47.69, up 0.18
15 utilities 35.20, off 0.04
65 stocks 62.92, off 0.09

Total sales, 500,000.

Salvation Army Asks Tax Exemption On Property Here

The City of Victoria has received a letter from Maj. R. Shaw, of the local social service department of the Salvation Army, appealing the taxes on the army's property at 523 Johnson Street.

Acting on the request of territorial headquarters, Toronto, Maj. Shaw wrote to the City Council that it was understood the property was exempt from taxes for the Anglican Synod of B.C. for years and that, as the Salvation Army purchased the property for the express purpose of charitable work, the army saw no difference in the work it was doing from that which the Chinese Anglican mission was doing.

"While the taxes amounting to $146, have been paid for 1947, our territorial headquarters consider that this is quite heavy for the privilege of doing social work in this city, and have requested we make direct representation to the City Council for exemption," Maj. Shaw concluded.

Commander Denies Rumors Patricia Bay To Be Closed

Group Capt. F. R. West, commanding officer of the Patricia Bay Station, Monday denied rumors Patricia Bay may be closed as a military installation and be turned over to the Department of Transport as a civilian or commercial flying field.

Group Capt. West said nothing of that nature was mentioned at a routine conference of Northwest Command Headquarters at Edmonton which he attended recently. He said the rumors may have started from the decision to postpone from Feb. 1, 1948, the start of full-scale operations at the station.

He explained that the lack of personnel to man the station was the reason for the postponement, and as soon as the necessary manpower was available the station would be placed on a full operational basis.

Saanich Building Figures Highest In Greater Victoria

Saanich took the lead in Greater Victoria construction activities last week with permits issued for $59,675 worth of construction.

Five of the Saanich permits issued were for dwellings worth $29,800. Included in the permits was one for a commercial garage, to be constructed on Cadboro Bay Road, costing $9,000. Another permit was for two stores and two apartments worth $8,000.

Next in line was Victoria, which issued 30 permits for construction valued at $47,910. One of the permits was for a $10,000 Dominion government wharf at the foot of Erie Street, and five were for houses worth a total of $25,500.

In Esquimalt, which came third, a total of seven permits was issued for construction valued at $24,950. Six of the permits were for houses costing $24,600.

Oak Bay, last on the list, issued only four permits for construction worth $7,825. One permit was for a $7,000, six-room house and garage at 625 Transit Road.

War Assets To Sell Officers' Mess

The building containing the former officers' mess at Ogden Point Pier A, built at a cost of $2,800, is now being put up for sale, according to information received by the City of Victoria from War Assets Corporation, Montreal.

The corporation asked that the city advise it as to Victoria's interest in the purchase of the building. W.A.C. also told the city that the provincial purchasing commission and the University of B.C. had also been advised the building was up for sale and that any interest the city might have in it would be subject to the requirements of those two bodies.

One Woman's Day

FARMER'S VIEW

A READER OF THIS COLUMN showed me a letter which she recently received from a relative in England, who is a farmer in Rugby.

And as it gave some interesting sidelights on a rural man's views on conditions over there today, she kindly allowed me to use it.

After talking of getting in the harvest, the writer noted that "crops—corn crops—this year are about average, but there will not be as much in the country, for a lot of land ploughed up during the war, has been seeded again to grass."

"Under present economic conditions in this country," he goes on, "it looks as if it will have to be re-ploughed, though many of the farmers—those who are old men with money particularly, of whom there are far too many—won't do it unless they are compelled I think, and at present the government is not contemplating compulsion."

CHANGING SPIRIT

DOUBTLESS COMPULSION WILL come if persuasion fails, he feels, and seems to think in most cases persuasion will not be enough.

"For the people have grown into something which, if it isn't really apathy, looks very much like it. It has to be seen to be realized the difference there is in the spirit abroad here today to what it was during the war," he writes.

"Then people were steady, yet on their toes; each person doing his utmost and doing it gladly. Moreover, when that was done at the job in hand, each took on a spare time job as well—A.R.P., Home Guard, Women's Voluntary Service, what you will!

"Today it's vastly altered, people want to do as little as they can, for as much as they can get; and the hard and dirty jobs—the mines, the farms, the hard factory jobs no one wants to do at all."

"GOVERNMENTITIS"

THE FARMER-WRITER evidently has no use for bureaucracy, as practiced under a Socialist government. For he goes on:

"On top of this, everything is controlled, and absolute herds of officials are pulling the strings of the said controls. There must, without exaggeration, be hundreds of thousands of them, and when you count their appendages, too, (office cleaners, paper-makers for producing their eternal forms, and so on) probably it might run near the million."

"And all these people have to be fed, clothed, housed, amused and cared for, yet they don't produce one iota of any of the necessities of life for themselves or for the good of the community."

"Everyone realizes that government is essential and there must be a number of people to govern, but this system we have is 'governmentitis' gone mad, and unless it is qu
